

Association Hopefuls Will Speak Monday

Candidates Will Speak At Civic Meeting

Members of the Orinda Association will have an opportunity to see and hear all of the candidates for five of the association's directorships at a meeting of the civic affairs committee at 8 p.m. Monday in the Orinda School.

The new directors, to take office January 1, will be elected by mail ballot to all paid-up members of the association. Ballots will be mailed out November 27 and will have to be returned by some time early in December.

THERE ARE two candidates for each of the five posts. Four of the openings are being created by the expiration of existing terms, and the other director will fill the incomplete term of David Saenger, who resigned shortly after his election this year.

Nominations for the post of chairman of the civic affairs committee, to succeed Harry Fledderman, will also be accepted at Monday night's meeting.

Guest speaker for the meeting will be Irving Roemer, a director of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District.

CANDIDATES for the directorships and the members of the board they are seeking to replace are: Connie Hall—Michael Ball, Spring Court, and David Edwards, 34 Bates Boulevard; President Victor Kingston—Arnold O. Anderson, 305 Overhill Road, and George A. Talbot, 52 Hillcrest Road; Phillip Mittel—Paul J. Fanning, 160 Hall Drive, and Michael E. Dakis, 236 Orchard Road; Les Hink, Jr.—Andrew Hartanov, 155 Camino Don Miguel, and Eric Nielsen, 224 Camino Sobrante, and Saenger—Gary Nikolai, 28 Dolores Way, and James Keating, 5 Albo Court.

Each of the candidates, with the exception of Dakis and Talbot, has submitted to The Sun a statement explaining why he feels he would make a good director for the association. Here are their statements:

Anderson

Arnold O. Anderson resides at 305 Overhill Road, with his wife, Ruth, and two children, Bobby, 13, and Jean, 11. He has been a resident of Orinda for the past seven years.

Anderson is the director of industrial relations at the U.S. Naval Air Station in Alameda. He also serves as an instructor in industrial and labor relations for the University of California (Extension Division). He is on the roster of labor arbitrators maintained by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and is chairman of the San Francisco Federal Personnel Council; is also a member of the Alameda Rotary Club and has served locally with the Boy Scouts.

ANDERSON ATTENDED Santa Rosa Junior College and UCLA, where he took his A.B. degree. He also holds a master's degree in business administration from the University of California at Berkeley. In addition to private employment by the Lockheed Aircraft Corporation, he has served as a naval officer and has been employed by the U.S. government in Jacksonville, Florida; Washington, D.C.; Oakland and Alameda.

Anderson is interested in seeing that Orinda continues to be one of the most attractive and desirable residential areas in Northern California and is particularly concerned in seeing that adequate and wholesome recreational facilities are available to the young people of the community.

"Under Vic Kingston's leadership, the board of directors has been very effective in representing all Orindans," Anderson said. "I would enter into the business of the association with an open mind and would hope to serve the interests of all Orindans to the best of my ability."

Ball

I have lived in Oak Springs with my wife, Susan, at 2 Spring Court for a year and a half and presently serve as vice president of the Oak Springs Homeowners Association.

I am a graduate of UCLA in business administration, served three years in the U.S. Coast Guard and am now a data processing sales representative for IBM in San Francisco.

I am particularly interested in the careful investigation of any Orinda zoning changes and in the development of park and recreational facilities.

To achieve these goals, I will strive to give the Orinda Association a stronger voice in representing the community to the County Board of Supervisors.

Edwards

I believe a man should be qualified for the office he seeks. I believe I am qualified. My name is David Edwards and I am seeking your support to elect me a director of the Orinda Association.

I have lived in the Bay Area all of my life, having attended grade school in Berkeley, high school in Piedmont and having graduated from the University of California at Davis in 1949.

I SAW SERVICE in the United States Navy both in World War II and the Korean War.

For the past 11 years I have been employed by Gerber Baby Foods as a western division produce buyer.

I live with my wife, Beverly, and our two girls, Barbara and Sherree, at 34 Bates Boulevard.

IN THE PAST I have been on the board of two home improvement associations and I am presently vice president and director of Lake Forest Homes Association, Lake Tahoe.

I would be grateful for this opportunity to serve Orinda, as I have a strong desire to keep Orinda a community we can be proud of.

Fanning

Orinda has been our happy home for over seven years. We are currently living in our new home at 160 Hall Drive, and the family consists of my wife, Nancy, and our three children—two boys and one girl.

We have enjoyed the atmosphere of suburban Orinda, the fine, though sometimes crowded, schools, and above all the friendly association with our fellow residents in the area.

I WAS born in Florida in 1926 and spent most of my childhood moving from one city to another because of the nature of my father's job, which entailed many transfers over a 15-year period.

Most of my adult life has been spent in the East Bay. I attended Berkeley High, Armstrong College and the University of California, interrupted by a sojourn in the Navy for three years during World War II. I met my wife, Nancy, while both of us were studying at the University, and immediately following college, Nancy and I were married and I went to work for Henry Kaiser's organization.

In 1951 I went to work for General Foods as a salesman. In February of 1952 I joined the Equitable Life Assurance Society as an agent, working out of the Society's Montgomery Street office in San Francisco. In 1953 we purchased our home in Orinda at 15 Ivy Drive, and I transferred my office to Lakeshore in Oakland.

I CONTINUED as an agent until 1957, when I went into management and opened a new office for Equitable in Richmond. In January of 1958 I was transferred to Walnut Creek, where I established our present offices at 1218 Boulevard Way. I currently supervise a sales force of 17.

I have been affiliated with the Oakland-East Bay Life Underwriters' Association and am currently a vice-president of the local branch of this organization, with headquarters in this county. I am active in the Orinda Y Indian Guides and I am looking forward to participation in the activities of the Orinda Association as a director.

I have followed the accomplishment of the Orinda Association and the tireless efforts of its members in pursuing one cause after another. I feel that the important thing for the members is that they can have a strong feeling of participation in the guidance and direction of the overall planning and integration of the desires of neighborhood associations.

IN MOST suburban areas there is a tendency for people to work in smaller groups and sometimes at cross purposes with their neighbors. This is particularly emphasized where there is not a coordinating group such as the Orinda Association. I feel that much of the impact on local issues and projects can be magnified greatly by utilizing a master plan.

I strongly feel that we should retain the atmosphere that Orinda is noted for, that of a choice residential suburban area. However, because Orinda is geographically the gateway from Alameda County to most of Contra Costa County, we are going to be constantly faced with new decisions regarding light industry, rapid transit, and multiple zoning.

Certainly it is the responsibility of the people of Orinda to be well versed in all proposals which affect our fine area, for surely the association can only be as effective as its active membership.

Hartanov

Andrew S. Hartanov is plant manager of UARCO Business Forms in Emeryville. He is a graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology with a degree in mechanical engineering and subsequently business administration. His practical experience includes: Machine design, sales development, staff administration and general management.

Residence in California and Orinda dates back to 1952.

HE HAS actively participated in local community affairs and has served as chairman, board of trustees, Orinda Community Church; president of Hacienda Improvement Association; parents advisory committee, Miramonte High School; civic affairs committee representative, Orinda Association; director, Hacienda Homes, Inc.

The Hartanov children, two boys and two girls, attend local schools; a sophomore at Diablo Valley College, a senior at Miramonte High School, and an eighth and sixth grader at Pine Grove.

Hartanov's statement regarding the Orinda Association may be summarized as follows:

Orinda is a fine community. Every effort should be made by the residents to maintain its character compatible with current growth and development.

NO COMMUNITY stands still. It either grows or declines—Orinda is growing. Therefore, some changes are inevitable in our progressive community.

Lacking a formal type of governing body, the responsibility of foreseeing the changing needs of the community rests upon the Orinda Association which must bring important matters to the attention of the residents and then take the necessary action to carry out the desire of the majority.

The community is rapidly approaching a point in its development where recognition must be given to the need for broadening or modifying the Orinda Association concept to enable it to more effectively carry out its functions.

Keating

My family and I have lived in Contra Costa County for 15 years which has included eight years in Walnut Creek and the past two years in Orinda.

I am a chemical engineer with the Standard Oil Company. Past officer of the Indian Valley Improvement Association and currently a director of the Lost Valley Association.

I want the Orinda Association to continue to be a responsible and effective voice of the community, helping to shape the orderly development of Orinda in accord with the will of the residents.

Nielsen

Eric H. Nielsen has been an Orinda resident for over six years. He recently purchased his second home in Orinda and lives at 224 Camino Sobrante with his wife and three daughters.

He is employed by California Packing Corporation as industrial relations manager for the California Division and his office is in Berkeley.

Nielsen is a native Californian and a business administration graduate of the University of California. He is a Marine combat veteran of the Korean War.

He is currently a member of the Orinda Association planning committee and formerly served on the civic affairs committee of the association. He is a past president of the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce and has been active in many other civic projects including the Orinda Beautification Committee. He is actively interested in maintaining Orinda as a fine residential community and, if elected, would work diligently to that end.

Nikolai

Gary Nikolai's statement follows: Orinda has grown rapidly and will continue to do so. As an Orinda resident who likes its natural beauty and advantages, I am vitally interested in seeing that this growth is effectively directed.

Our most effective and principal means of assuring this well directed growth is the Orinda Association. It is my desire to maintain a strong, active, and alert organization.

Received a B.S. degree in business administration in 1949. I am sales manager of the printing equipment and supply division of Griffin Brothers. Served four years in the Army Air Force during World War II, with tours in Alaska, Africa and the China-Burma-India theatre.

If elected to the board of directors I pledge myself to represent the residents of my area in a responsive and responsible manner.

3 Post Office Bids Are Submitted

Final Decision Due from Washington Next Week

By LARRY GLAZIER

Three "attractive" construction-lease bids on the proposed new Orinda Post Office have been sent to Washington, D.C., for further review, The Sun learned this week.

Lawrence Gay of the Post Office Department's regional real estate office in San Francisco said yesterday that no decision has been made on the post office, and that only the Washington office can make such a decision.

He said final approval of a location and bid can be expected from Washington within a week or 10 days.

ACCORDING to Gay, the regional office only makes final decisions on matters which will cost less than $15,000 per year. He said each of the three Orinda bids received was about $20,000 per year.

The three bids submitted for the local building were as follows, Gay said:

One by Associated Development Company at the Pine Grove site. This offer was termed "very attractive" by Gay.

A second one from Buchter, Bowman and Cagle for a site between the Safeway and Lucky stores in the Village area.

THE FINAL bid was from the Marlin Development Company and Abe Doty for another piece of land in the Village area.

Gay stressed that none of the principals have been notified as to any outcome of the bids and that whatever decision will be made will come from Washington.

He said another piece of property which is available and in which the Post Office Department was interested was the Brookwood Road site owned by a Ramsey Underwood. No bid was entered for this property because residents in the area objected.

Workshop Deemed Great Success

Enthusiastic publicity chairman and public relations personnel comfortably filled the Acalanes High School cafeteria on Monday night for The Sun's Annual Publicity Workshop.

Questions and answers pertaining to news and publicity releases and photographs were informally tossed back and forth between the audience and members of The Sun staff.

Herman Silverman, Sun publisher, introduced the speakers and moderated the discussion periods. Larry Glazier, Lafayette-Orinda area news editor, discussed organizing and conducting a publicity campaign.

Dick Osborn, associate editor, spoke on publicity photographs and outlined The Sun's policy on when such pictures should run. Jean Jernigan, society and Pleasant Hill news editor, discussed organization of women's news. Norm Colby, news editor, Walnut Creek Sun, talked on the form and content of news releases.

Opinions voiced by members of the audience at the conclusion of the workshop varied from the enthusiastic "It was wonderful, a great help" to "I wish there would be more workshops of this kind."

Thanksgiving Brings Earlier Deadlines for Sun

Thanksgiving is upon us again—next Thursday to be exact—and, as a result, The Sun's advertising and news deadlines have been advanced.

Cancellations and renewals of classified advertisements must be reported to The Sun offices by Saturday at 4 p.m., and the deadline for new classified ads will be Monday at 10 a.m.

The display advertising deadline will be Friday at 5 p.m. this week only.

All publicity releases must be presented by Monday at 10 a.m. in order to appear in next week's Sun, which will be published on Friday as usual.

MIRAMONTE HIGH School this week claimed four athletic champions in the Foothill Division of the Diablo Valley Athletic League, this bringing to a close the most successful fall sports season in the school's history. Here's the varsity cross country team, which went undefeated for the third straight year. School Trustees Discuss Leaving State Program

Trustees of the Orinda Union School District have taken under advisement a suggestion of Superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff that the district discontinue the state aid program for building construction.

The school board will discuss the matter at its December meeting after Sheaff and James Jentes, assistant superintendent for business affairs, submit written studies to board members.

IN THE meantime, the board authorized James Anderson, architect for the district, to proceed with working drawings on the proposed district administration building so that the plans will be ready when needed by the district.

Sheaff proposed abandoning the state building aid program in order to get the administration building—which would cost an estimated $117,000—constructed more rapidly and at less overall cost.

Board members agreed earlier this school year that the administration building is needed to provide centralization and greater efficiency of administrative facilities of the district.

BUT PLANS for the building were stalled because of the priority system for state aid school building funds. Classrooms are the most urgent need in the state, Sheaff reported, and other types

Phillip Champion Is Electrocuted In Orinda Home

East Bay industrialist Phillip S. Champion died of apparent electrocution last Friday while repairing a portable heater in his home, 134 Canyon Drive, Orinda.

Mr. Champion, 53, was vice president of the Ziegler Steel Service Corporation of Oakland.

HIS WIFE, Catherine, told Sheriff's deputies she found Champion sprawled on the basement floor, a lamp cord across his legs, about half an hour after he had gone to the basement to repair the heater.

Deputies said Champion had placed the lamp on top of a water heater in order to have more light with which to work on the defective portable heater.

The Orinda Fire Department's efforts at reviving the Orindan were unsuccessful.

MR. CHAMPION was a native of Alameda, and had lived in Orinda for seven years. He was a member of the Aahmes Temple Shrine Guard, a 33rd degree Mason of the Scottish Rites; past president of the Berkeley Junior Chamber of Commerce; a member of the America Steel Warehouse Association and a director of the Salvation Army.

In addition to his widow, he is survived by three daughters, Gail, Jane and Barbara Champion of Orinda; his mother, Mrs. Ann Champion of Oakland; a sister, Mrs. Ralph Holm of Orinda, and two brothers, Fred Champion of Oakland and Edwin Champion of Alameda.

Funeral services were held Monday at the Chapel in the Valley, Lafayette Mortuary, with the Reverend Carl Thomas of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church officiating. Inurnment followed at Sunset View Mausoleum, Berkeley.

Commissioners Change Time of Meeting Again

The regular monthly meeting of the board of commissioners of the Orinda Fire District has been rescheduled again—this time to 7:30 p.m. November 30 at the main fire station.

The meeting originally was scheduled for the fourth Thursday evening of the month, but it was changed to tomorrow afternoon because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

Postmaster Has Helpful Hints For Yule Mail

Faced with the possibility that the 1960 Christmas season will set an all time holiday mailing record, Postmaster Laura Mallary announced today that Orinda is starting its annual "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign immediately.

The postmaster offered the following helpful mailing tips to insure delivery of Christmas cards and gifts on time:

FIRST, check your Christmas card list very carefully—make sure each address is complete with full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

Second, for your Christmas gift packages, stock up now on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape.

Third, remember that you can include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift package by adding the appropriate first class postage to the package itself.

Fourth, buy your postage stamps now. Don't wait until the last minute when long lines form at the stamp windows.

MRS. MALLARY said, "The post office will help you plan your Christmas mailings. Get a copy of Pamphlet No. 2, which gives full information about proper packaging and wrapping of parcels."

The post office will also supply free labels which read, "All for Local Delivery" and "All for Out of Town Delivery" so that you can sort your Christmas cards into two groups, with addresses all facing one way, thus insuring fast delivery.

Tables will be provided in the lobby of the post office—one marked "Orinda Mail Only" and the other marked "Out of Town Mail."

USE ONLY first class postage on Christmas cards, the postmaster stated. Cards sent by first class four cent, or seven cent air mail, may include personal handwritten messages. First class mail also receives full forwarding and return service.

Mrs. Mallary cautioned Orindans against forgetting to place return addresses on every Christmas card envelope. Not only is this socially correct, she reported, but it helps tremendously to keep the mailing lists of both you and your friends up-to-date.

The postmaster requested that all Christmas cards and gifts for distant points be mailed before December 10, and those for nearby destinations be mailed by December 15.

$10,400,000 Is Low Bid On Tunnel Project

The State Division of Highways is considering a low bid of $10,400,000 for the new tunnel through the Berkeley hills to supplement the Caldecott Tunnel as a key section of the Grove-Shafter Freeway route between Oakland and Contra Costa County.

Lowest of nine bids received by the division of highways, the bid was submitted jointly by Connolly Pacific Company, Grafe-Callaghan Construction Company and Charles L. Harney, Incorporated.

When the project is completed in about three years, it will provide six traffic lanes in the three tubes. Controls will permit reversal of the traffic flow in the middle tube to meet demands of peak hour traffic.

A single bore tunnel about 150 feet north of and parallel to the existing twin bore tunnel which links Oakland with Contra Costa County on Highway 24 will be constructed.

The new tunnel will have a 28 foot roadway through the 1.1 mile bore.

Suburbia Scribblings

Come Rain, Come Shine . . .

THE RAINS CAME finally & the farmers weren't the only thankful ones. We, with ants in our plants & roses in need of a thorough rinsing just sat & gazed at the marvelous grey sheets saturating the countryside.

The air is fresher, the clouds are brighter, the blue skies clearer—and the keds are muddier, but it was worth it! Even if you did find another leak in the roof!

A DOWNPOUR of Birthday wishes rained on Dick Kendall when guests from town & country, gathered at the Kendall's Sleepy Hollow home last Friday night, learned it was the host's own natal day!

Bringing along his "Boom-Bass", a musical instrument (a la Rube Goldberg w/tambourine, cymbals, bells & bongo) was Chuck Beckett w/his wife Peg played the zany accompaniment to some 90,000 outbursts of Happy B'day Dear Dickie . . . Hostess Joan greeted guests from 5 on fetchingly attired in floating blue chiffon.

UP THE WALKWAY . . . The Ed Bakers, Caroline & Jim Read (Caroline's coat of real McCoy Leopard looked LAVISH), Alan & Sue Goldsmith still being welcomed home after a year of living down South where Captain Goldsmith was stationed. About to retire at the ripe old age of 41, Alan still commutes, coming home to Orinda wknds. from Santa Ana. The family are finally ensconced in their Katrina Ct. contemporary home that was being finished JUST when they got word of their last transfer.

MORE THE MERRIER . . . Mildred & Scot Laws, Bill & Gail Hanford, Elva & Hutch Hutchinson, Meg & Charlie Schuler & Lee & Don Texdahl some nearby neighbors meeting & mingling w/Walnut Creek guests & relatives from townside of the Tunnel . . . The Albert McCanns & Art Comerforts going on to dinner together.

HAIL, HAIL, THE GANG'S ALL HERE . . . Fran Seaman admiring the handsome bouquets of spider mums from Betty Talbot's gardens . . . Tall Betty Irwin charming everyone into chuckles w/her imitation of a Javanese-Balinese dancer — & another outburst of Happy B'day to Dick ringing out from the crowd!

Dropping in for a bit before pedaling off to Pebble Beach were Jean & Joe Downs . . . Hostess Joan to swap her party chiffon for a practical apron this week, to cook all the favorite things for the couple's son Ricky who is due home for the Thanksgiving holidays from the San Diego Army & Navy Academy.

Campaign posters for CO-HO-NA

Localities crossed over the bridge to the annual big CO-HO-NA Ball held at the Sheraton Palace Nov. 5 . . . & since it was that exciting time pre-election, campaign posters graced the Gold Ballroom where Alumnae of the College of the Holy Names danced to Dick Foy & Ork.

THE ELEGANT marble statues at the elegant Scatena home didn't look quite that elegant when Edith & Bill first got them. The 3-part statues of Bacchus (I beg your pardon, it isn't BACCHUS?) weigh TONS & had to be lifted gently into the bathtub for a good soaking before they looked the distinguished & pristine pieces of marble they are.

JIMMY BARNES, stylist at the Village Beauty Studio, has other talents up his artistic sleeve. He'll stage the California School of Ballet's Christmas show at Miramonte on Dec. 4 . . . & for tickets to this, two exceptionally fine performances of "Beauty & The Beast" & "La Boutique Fantastique", better hurry for yours . . . $2.00 for adults, $1.00 for children.

Church Council Urges Help for 'Surplus' Effort

The Council of Churches of Central Contra Costa County is appealing to its member churches and to the community to support the "Share Our Surplus" program and the United Clothing Appeal, said Rev. Dr. Philip J. Dauntan, executive director of the local council.

The United States government puts at the disposal of Church World Service, with which the local Council works closely, large supplies of surplus food, and monies collected are used simply for transportation costs, he said.

Each dollar sends to needy persons abroad no less than 300 pounds of food. Each year the churches conduct a "Share Our Surplus" drive and persons wishing to donate to it are asked to mail their checks to their local church or to the Council of Churches office, 2900 Bonifacio Street, Concord, marking the check, "Sharing Our Surplus."

THE UNITED Clothing Appeal is likewise coordinated by Church World Service, and through it clothing is sent to needy areas throughout the world.

The clothing is first collected by local churches and then sent by them to the Council of Churches Depot, 82 Scenic Drive, Orinda.

From there it is collected by Church World Service truck from the West Coast headquarters in Modesto.

The Rev. Walter Bishop is Chairman of the Social Education and Action Committee of the local Council of Churches, which coordinates these two drives.

REV. DAUNTAN also reminded local residents that they may participate in the "world's largest Bible reading class."

The program emphasizes daily reading of the Bible from Thanksgiving to Christmas.

A recommended list of daily Scripture passages is being circulated by the American Bible Society and the ministers of its more than 50 supporting denominations, as well as secular organizations.

Dr. Dauntan has available in the Council office a supply of the booklets listing the daily readings and they are available to individuals gratis, or to churches in the area, whether or not they are members of the Council of Churches.

They may be obtained by writing the Council office, 2900 Bonifacio Street, Concord, or by phone.

Beautification Group Sponsors Dramateur Play

By having a good time Friday evening, December 2, at the Lafayette Town Hall, residents can help make Orinda more beautiful.

The Dramateurs are presenting the Pulitzer prize-winning play, "Look Homeward Angel" at 8:30 p.m. The evening is sponsored by the Orinda Beautification Committee and tickets are $1.75 each.

Tickets may be obtained through Mrs. Robert Patmont, CL 4-3714, Mrs. Paul Pollaczek, CL 4-5248, or Mrs. Frederick Zinkand, CL 4-5878. Tickets may also be purchased at the theater on the night of the performance.

Last year the committee, which is sponsored by the Scouts, the garden clubs, the women's organizations, the improvement associations and the chamber of commerce, bought and planted the pink-flowering chestnut trees on Bryant Way.

This year they would like to add more flowering trees to the planting of the on-and-off ramps of the Orinda cloverleaf. The state does the basic planting but this added beauty depends upon the generosity of Orindans.

Canyon's Voters Are Not Pleased With Treatment

The 70 voters in the single Canyon precinct are a bit unhappy with the county's election officials.

For the first time since the precinct was established in 1913, according to Mrs. John P. Shally, a Canyon resident, the "Canyon" label has been omitted from the county's election returns.

And Mrs. Shally reported the precinct registered a 100 per cent turnout, including six absentee ballots to raise the total to 76, at the recent general election.

She said the mix-up may have occurred because the county, for the first time, included 16 voters from Moraga in the Canyon precinct. This, she stated, may have resulted in the predominantly Republican Canyon location being included under Moraga totals.

Public Hearing on Road Relocation Is Tuesday

The still-unsettled question of where Bear Creek Road will be relocated is scheduled to be answered, partially, at least, at a public hearing before the County Board of Supervisors at 2 p.m. Tuesday.

The supervisors declined to act last week on a recommendation of a citizens' study committee that the county authorize the expenditure of $13,600 for a study of an additional alternate route in the Charles Hill-Happy Valley roads area.

CHAIRMAN MEL Nielsen of the county board had appointed the citizens' group to study the road relocation problem because there was disagreement with the route proposed by county and private engineers.

Relocation of the road is necessary because the existing Bear Creek Road will be inundated by construction of the East Bay Municipal Utility District's Briones Reservoir. The contract on the large new dam was awarded recently.

EBMUD officials warned the supervisors last week that any costs above the cheapest possible road relocation will have to be borne by the county. The district has agreed to pay for the relocation of a road at the least expensive cost possible.

OBJECTIONS TO THE new Charles Hill-Happy Valley route study were voiced by Victor Sauer, county public works director, and by Charles Wilmarth, EBMUD customer relations director.

Wilmarth said the route favored by county engineers and other county officials is also favored by EBMUD because it would be the most efficient and economical and would provide the greatest benefit to the county.

The route would traverse the southern and eastern edges of the reservoir which is under construction. It has been opposed by residents of the Sleepy Hollow and Happy Valley areas.

The EBMUD official said that because construction will begin soon in the road area, a speedy decision should be made by the county.

Sauer said the route his office recommended has been favored unanimously by the County Planning Commission, and added, "I can see nothing to change our recommendation."

Penalty Meeting Delayed by Board

The meeting between the Orinda Union School District board of trustees and the contractor on the Ivy Intermediate School project, originally scheduled for Monday night, has been postponed.

According to Joseph L. Sheaff, district superintendent, the contractor, J. G. Reynolds of Santa Rosa, has asked for a delay in the meeting until the school buildings are completed.

The meeting will be held to determine whether a liquidated damages clause in the construction contract should be enforced. If it is enforced, Reynolds would be penalized $50 for each day the school job is late.

The First Parent-Teacher Conference Is the Hardest

By CONNIE PIKE

With the first quarter of school completed, the schools insist on something called "reporting to parents." Most schools give you four such reports each year, though I feel we would all be much happier without them.

The first one is the hardest.

About the middle of November the children bring home little notices which read: "Your appointment for a conference with your child's teacher has been set for (date)." You confirm the appointment and then await the date, all the while wringing your hands much the way you do at the dentist's office.

WHEN THE TIME arrives, you present yourself at the school and soon find yourself closed into a cubicle with the teacher. The room is almost bare, having a desk and two chairs, much like a psychiatrist's consulting room. You keep looking around for the couch.

The procedure is similar, too, the teacher usually beginning gently.

"Now," she will say, "tell me something about your family." This is her underhanded way of finding out why your child is a problem.

You begin, bright and chatty, but soon find yourself in quicksand. Perhaps you say something like, "I believe children should be happy. We use controls, but I definitely feel they should express themselves."

YOU BREAK OFF when you see her eyes glittering. You have obviously played into her hand. You make a note never to state anything, but instead to sit quietly and beware of traps.

She begins to talk about your little boy.

"Today he pushed a child down and grabbed his raincoat."

"Whose raincoat?" you ask.

"Your son's. Now the thing is, he's terribly possessive of his belongings."

"I can explain that," you say. "I told him I'd beat him to a pulp if he lost his raincoat."

"I see," she says. Her eyes are glittering again.

Often at this point she goes out, and returns in a few minutes fortified with the principal. He sits in on the remaining discussion, and although he says little, you get the feeling he's waiting for you to say or do something irrational.

FREQUENTLY YOU'LL have two or three conferences on the same day. This is most unfair. You're shuttled about to various teachers where you listen to much unsolicited advice—a thing I try to avoid.

One teacher advised me as follows:

"We believe in telling a child once, and once only. It's called the 'once and once only' technique. Now, your child needs this type of responsibility."

"You mean I should say just once, 'please get ready for school?'" I asked incredulously.

"Yes. When the child learns you aren't going to keep reminding him, he will assume the responsibility."

I'm convinced if I used this technique exclusively, my children would miss the first three weeks of school.

ALONG WITH THIS gay chat, the teacher gives you a written report. My children's teachers know only three letters—B, C and D. I often wonder whether A has disappeared from the alphabet, but upon comparing notes with my friends, I learn that all other children are straight A students.

Reports are duly written and sent home three times more during the term, often accompanied by a note: "Little (name of child) has reverted to his old bad habits, but perhaps we can yet pull him through."

Still, these are not so bad. The way I look at it, you don't have to read them if you don't want to. Being a masochist, I read them, but at least the teacher can't reach out and put her hand on me—I'm safely home.

Post-conference depression is lifted by the arrival of holidays, when little problems shrink back into perspective.

But it is a recurring illness.

Stamp Display is Ballot Winner

Stamp displays are always interesting to stamp lovers, but Gordon Fisk and Gerald Hodgkinson of the Diablo Valley Stamp Club came up with something which intrigued even the guy who naively thinks stamps are for mailing letters.

Their display was voted most popular with the general public during the Walnut Festival, in a competition involving about 40 displays.

The display has stamps depicting various activities, and lines leading to a map in the center and the location in the United States of that activity.

Hodgkinson said, "No one we know of ever did it just this way. The stamps actually have a function in this display."

Included were stamps priced at anywhere from one cent to $2 and up, and valued at up to $75 each in some cases.

Hodgkinson added, "Our club is active all year round and we meet every second and fourth Thursday night at the Pleasant Hill Recreation Center."

"We are always open to new members. Don't call just drop in."

Club president is Jack Buffington.

Acalanes Board Lets Bid for Del Valle Rooms

The Acalanes High School District Board of Trustees Monday night awarded the contract for the construction of a multi-use room and industrial arts classrooms at Del Valle High School to the Reynolds Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, lowest of six bidders.

The contract was for $404,709, some $50,000 in excess of the architect's estimate of the cost. Richard Banwell, representing Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Taric, architects for the project, explained that a portion of the excess amount was due to an expansion of facilities made after the original estimate had been provided.

CONSTRUCTION is to start at once and be completed in time for the opening of school in the fall of 1961. Yet to be let is the contract for completion of the paving of a central court area adjacent to the new building.

Trustees also called for bids for the construction of an industrial arts building at Miramonte High School to be occupied in September, 1961. This construction exhausts the building funds of the district and no more can be undertaken until the voter's decision on the pending bond issue is determined on February 14, 1961.

IN OTHER ACTION the board agreed to the erection of a sign announcing the site of the district's next high school at Rheem Center in Moraga; discussed means of transporting special education class students to Pleasant Hill High School from Walnut Creek and Lafayette.

The meeting adjourned at 8 p.m. to enable trustees to attend the organizing meeting of a citizen's committee to sponsor the district's impending bond election.

Acalanes District Bond Drive Headed by Doyle

Local insurance executive Don D. Doyle, 19 Norlyn Drive, Walnut Creek, has accepted the general chairmanship of a citizen's committee organized to promote the passage of the Acalanes High School District's $3.9 million bond issue to be submitted to the voters February 14.

Doyle, former state assemblyman and parent of a Las Lomas High School student, has been active in local affairs. During his term in Sacramento, he served as chairman of the Assembly Education Committee and a member of the State Allocation Board. The latter is the state agency loaning money to local school districts for construction purposes.

"BECAUSE OF my respect for the fine work that is being done by the district administration, and my interest in assuring they will be given the means to continue to provide an outstanding education program for our children, I am especially pleased to accept this responsibility," Doyle stated.

A meeting of officers of the parent's clubs of each of the district's four high schools, members of the board of trustees, and school administrators, including Superintendent Neil M. Parsons, was held in the Acalanes library Monday following the trustees regular bi-monthly meeting.

PLANS WERE laid for securing community support for the bond issue by enlisting the aid of elementary and intermediate school parent's groups and the formation of the nucleus of an executive committee from those present. Among these are Gerald Ansell, Dean La Field, Mrs. S. S. Golden, Mrs. Avrahan Yedidia, and Mrs. C. W. Wright.

Describing the need for the successful passage of the bond issue, Doyle pointed out the rapid growth of enrollment in the area and the fact that high school students in the district are increasing at a rate of more than twice that of California as a whole.

"We are not talking about students who may come in to the area at some time in the future, either," he said. "These are chiefly students presently in our elementary and intermediate schools and who we know will be enrolling in our high schools."

QUESTIONED as to the effect of failure of the bond issue, Parsons said, "The immediate result would be an increase in the size of classes and the overcrowding of our present facilities. Soon we would be forced to change school boundary lines to accommodate students in the school that could best absorb them."

Stated for a special election February 14, the proposed bond issue is planned to provide funds for the construction of the district's fifth high school at Rheem Center in Moraga, completion of the construction of Del Valle and Miramonte, and additions that are expected to be made at Acalanes and Los Lomas.

Also on the ballot will be approval of a state loan of $750,000 for the purchase of future school sites.

Education on Cancer Brings Doctors Together

Contra Costa's professional education committee will meet next Wednesday night at 8 at the county headquarters of the American Cancer Society, 2030 N. Main Street, Walnut Creek.

Attending will be Dr. Eugene G. Miller of San Francisco, medical director of the California Division of the American Cancer Society, and Dr. John R. Newkirk of Hayward, chairman of the cancer committee of the California-Contra Costa Medical Society.

Physicians throughout the county who are willing to speak at American Cancer Society educational film showings are invited to attend, according to Dr. John S. Cheredes of Walnut Creek, county professional education committee chairman.

Physicians in western Contra Costa County particularly are needed in the cancer society's program of dissemination of cancer facts, Dr. Cheredes said.

One out of three persons who will get cancer this year can be saved if alerted in time to existing methods of treatment.

At the meeting next Wednesday the committee also will review the Tumor Board at the county hospital in Martinez and consider the initiation of tumor registers in other hospitals in the county.

Committee members include, besides Dr. Cheredes, Dr. W. J. Eldred of Pleasant Hill and Dr. Herbert R. Packard, Dr. George N. Weston and Dr. Charles A. Evans, all of Walnut Creek.

Osmundsen Round Hill Sites Open For Sale

First to begin construction in the recently opened Round Hill Country Club development is the Osmundsen Company, with its Hawaiian ranch style home.

In a dedication ceremony, Mel F. Nielsen, chairman of the Contra Costa Board of Supervisors, severed a gold-plated chain, opening to sale the first 100 homesites in Round Hill, a new multi-million dollar residential development.

Round Hill, in Alamo, is situated in the San Ramon Valley between Walnut Creek and Danville.

The Osmundsen Company, builders of homes throughout Contra Costa County for many years, is the first construction firm to break ground on the fairway homesites overlooking the Round Hill Country Club golf course.

The 2500 square foot Hawaiian ranch style home under construction contains nine rooms: living room, dining room, family room, kitchen, four bedrooms, three baths and a large utility room. Completion is set for Feb. 1, 1961, with a price of around $55,000.

Round Hill Country Club homesites, each at least one-half acre in size, are obtainable only through the offices of Geldermann Realtors in Danville, who conceived the idea of this project over five years ago.

The 650 acre Round Hill estate will eventually contain, in addition to the already-completed golf course.

Del Rey Children To Have Their Teeth Inspected

In cooperation with the county health department, Del Rey school children are participating in a dental survey. Each child's teeth will be inspected by a dental hygienist and findings recorded. Parents will be notified in cases where a dentist's care is needed. Results of the survey will be summarized and compared with a similar survey made five years ago. Over 50 parent volunteers are aiding the hygienist in her inspections. Concurrently, the teachers are staging an intensive drive for proper dental care.

Mrs. Spiess' fifth graders staged an election of their own in connection with their study of our Presidential election process. The class visited one of the local polling places where an election inspector explained the voting process. Before class members cast their ballots, they listened to debates between teams of classmates.

The first debate covered the issues of defense of Quemoy-Matsu, national defense plans and federal aid to education. Grace Jones, Sally Longacre and John Schultz presented Nixon's views; Tom Lasater, Holly O'Konski and Gayle Patton argued the points for Kennedy.

The second debate concentrated on the Cuban situation, medical care for the aged and aid to foreign countries. On these topics Kerry Germann, Marcy Strzelecki and Eugenia Wood spoke for Kennedy, while Bobby Dunlop, Vicky Ford and Susan Kjar gave Nixon's arguments. Gerry Dunbar served as chairman for both debates.

Following the debates, the class members cast their votes for President. Results did not follow the national trend.

A study of colonial America has been going on in Mr. Robertson's fifth grade class. After research on Jamestown, Jody Valencia and Mary Schmidt made an asbestos model of that colony as it existed in 1622. Buildings and topography are portrayed.

Glorietta: Ants

"Ants," written by Norman Hart, Mrs. Cutler's third grade. Did you know that there are over 3500 kinds of ants. The great little engineers we have in Mrs. Cutler's third grade class are called work ants. They build tunnels and bridges. They like their soil moist to work in.

A few drops of water and sugar will feed them for a week. All work ants are females. Only the queen lays eggs. The work ants take care of the queen. They bathe, brush and feed her.

The king and queen ants have wings. We do not have a queen or king in our class.

"Poetry Corner," by Jay Schneider, Mrs. Cutler's class: I am thankful for my toys, my bicycle and my pogo stick. I am thankful I can make noise and I have a football to kick. I am thankful for my friends: Paul, Norman, Dick and Johnny. I am thankful for my family: Laurie, Kathy, Stephen and Bobby.

Orinda: Pilgrims

Mrs. Coffey's second grade is building a Pilgrim village in conjunction with their Thanksgiving studies.

The second graders in Miss McCann's room created striking collages with autumn leaves, seeds and stones. They will be working with finger paint in a Thanksgiving theme later in the week, under the supervision of district art supervisor, Mrs. Rossi.

Mrs. Dochterman's third graders have been memorizing many poems by Robert Louis Stevenson and Rose Fyleman. They also have been having fun composing their own rhymes on safety themes. A few of their original rhymes are:

Don't talk to strangers any day
For they may carry you away.—By Lynn Lechtaler.
You better look when you cross the street,
Or a car might knock you off your feet.—By Lynn Lechtaler.
When you ride your bicycle at night
Be sure you're wearing something white.—By Paulette Moyal.
If you can't swim,
Don't be a fool!
Stay away from the edge
Of the swimming pool.—By Paddy Poupeney.
One lesson I have learned—
If you play with fire you may get burned.—By Alison Burchell.
If you yell or shout on the bus,
The bus driver can't take care of us.—By Debra Pameson.
Don't cross the street
When the light is red,
Or you may end up
In a hospital bed.—By Reed Harding.

Mrs. Andree's fourth grade is enjoying the new S.M.S.G. math program. The children particularly enjoyed solving problems in bases other than 10. Now they are solving word problems by using mathematical sentences. In this manner they are learning something about the nature and properties of addition and subtraction.

Pine Grove: Exhibit

Tuesday two representatives from each school in Orinda and 30 library assistants from Pine Grove attended an exhibit of some 600 books at Montair School in Danville. These are prize books and the students are allowed to participate in selecting books for the school library. The group was accompanied by Mrs. Frederick, district librarian, and Mrs. Lillie, Pine Grove librarian.

Those who attended were: Glorietta, Lianne Munach and Joyce Van Dyke; Sleepy Hollow, John Ferguson and Sarah Woodard.

Fire Marshal Is Cub Speaker

Fire Marshal William Koch of the Orinda Fire Department demonstrated fire prevention methods at the recent meeting of Cub Pack 207 and parents of the pack members at the Glorietta School.

Jane Ross Takes Up Duties at the Orinda Safeway

Jane Ross, the Safeway Store home economist, has taken up her duties at Safeway in Orinda.

Jane's real name is Carol Weightman and her address is Box 703, Danville. She is at the market three days a week—Thursday, Friday and Saturday—to help customers with party ideas, meal planning and general problems about food and nutrition.

Each week Jane Ross puts out a menu complete with recipes and household hints designed to help the customer who is looking for new and interesting ideas.

Mrs. Weightman was graduated from Simmons College in Boston, Massachusetts in 1954, having majored in home economics. She taught home economics at San Ramon Valley Union High School for five years, and received her life credentials for teaching in the state of California in 1959.

With her husband, she takes an active interest in community life. She is a member of the League of Women Voters and American Home Economics Association, and is the hostess chairman for the Diablo Orinda store to take guided tours.

Orinda, John Hall and Peggy Hart; Del Rey, Sarah Boyd and Kathy Walters.

Also, Inland Valley Intermediate, Linda Watkins, Clay Kallam, Laurie Mateer, Bruce Van Voorhis and Roger Law; Pine Grove, Bill Lincoln, Tod Neuschwander, Nancy Daniloff, Doug DeCosta, Chris Neddersen, Woody Norza, David Rapport, Nancy Miller, Beverley Taylor, Nancy Hogle, Sandy Robinson, Connie McClure, Pam Zerkle, Jill McCaffery, Debbie Dunning, Gerry Holmboe, Christine Del Monica, Mike Kelly, Gail Clark, Sherry Stone, Mary Lou Kilburn, Susan Boyd, Bonnie Kinser, Marilyn Wood, Jody Manuel, Andrea Knudsen, Joan Portello, Andrea Moe and Carole Baptista.

Pine Grove student body has joined forces with the "Save the Children Federation Bundle Days Clothing Collection." In this program, children help children in areas where warm serviceable clothing and shoes are urgently needed. Warehouses are located in Knoxville, Tennessee; in Greece and Korea.

Educators and school administrators, led by the national advisory committee of school superintendents and the state advisory committees make this achievement possible.

Bundle Day collections will be held beginning this week through November 23. The collection depot will be Pine Grove School, where deposit of clothing may be made any time between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Sleepy Hollow: Hawaii

Hawaii, our 50th state, has been prominent in school news this week. The Standard Oil broadcast featured the islanders Thursday, and as a follow up in the fifth graders, Miss Rudy brought slides which she had taken last summer, which illustrated all the places discussed in the broadcast to add a visual understanding to the musical knowledge gained about Hawaii.

Allowance for self-expression in Miss Roberts' fifth grade has prompted a popular chart in her room titled "Reading Club," with such items for signposts as: I Have a Story to read; Story to tell; Poem to read, Play to give, Something to share. The students "join" the club when they sign up under one or more of the headings.

What better incentive for good writing for a first grader than to write about oneself? Mrs. Gehre's pupils are writing "biographies," and some of their life stories are most interesting.

The pupils are also finding many uses for pine cones as the holidays approach. On their seasonal tree they have made pine owls that perch saucily on the branches, and now they will be starting to make Christmas decorations with another type of cone. They learn about the different pines and firs while they are doing this—outdoor education starts early in this first grade!

Miramonte Mirror

First Quarter Ends on a Happy and Thrilling Note

By TOM FERGUSON and ANN LINCOLN

With a very happy and thrilling note, the first quarter of school ended at Miramonte last Thursday as the Matadors whipped the San Ramon Wolves by the score of 20 to 7. What a great way to end the football season!

The score was an even 7 to 7 as the half ended. Coach Brooks told the Matadors at half time that they were running the plays like a bunch of first graders. His speech got the team so fired up that they went out in the second half and scored in the opening minutes and later in the fourth period.

This win closed the season for the best football team that young Miramonte has produced. The J. V. team was undefeated in league play this year and big things are expected from these players in future varsity years.

Something being discussed among the Miramonte students is the proposed amendment to the school's constitution. It would create what most schools call a student court, but which we will call a student advisory board. The amendment has been in the making for a year now. It was passed by 2/3 of the student council and now must be approved by the student body.

The advisory board would consist of a chief justice, who would be elected by the student body, and eight associate justices. They would be a boy and girl from each class, to be chosen by the student body president and the chief justice.

The purpose would be to put more control of discipline into the students' hands. They would advise, not punish. The student council is urging students to pass the amendment because they feel it will be of great benefit and that it will set a precedent that will stay with Miramonte in the years to come.

The old seventh period speech class was rolling in the aisles again last week as the humorous speeches continued. Andy deGrassi highlighted the week with a rollicking speech on how women fool men. He even illustrated the talk with an official inspector's pin which he wore. We expect more ahead, Andy. Nice speech.

Here is another speech which we thought amusing, titled the "Pea Little Thigs."

"Once in the happy day when there was no harcity of scam, and when pork-nicks were a chopple apice, there liver an old puther mig, in other surds a wow—and her sea thruns. Whatever happened to the migs old pan is still miswhat of a summery. One year the acorn fob crailed and the old paidy lig had one teck of a hime younging her feedsters. There was a swirh of a dill, too, as garble weren't putting as much fancy stuff into their peepage.

"So the old paidy lig reluctantly bold her toys they'd have to go out and feek their own sorchuns. Amid towing fleers and sevy hobs, each gave his huther a big mug and they started out on their wperate saze.

"Let's follow the purst fig, little turly kale, shall we? He hadn't fon very gar when he enmannered a nice count with a strundle of yellow bar. 'Meeze, Mr. Plan,' ped the sig, 'Won't you give me your haw to build me a strauss?' Numb serve, believe me.

"The man was a jig-hearted Bo, though, and billingly gave him the wundle, out of which he caught himself a pretty bilitage. No fooner was the huse finished, than who should dock on the fron noor that a werrible toll.

"Pittle Lig, Pittle Lig," he said in a faked Venor Toyce, 'May I come in and see your hitty prome?'

"Though, though, a nowand time though," pied the crig, 'Not by the chair of my hinny hin hin.'

"Then," said the wolf, 'I'll huff and I'll bluff and I'll hoe your plouse pown.' So he chuffed up his peeks and blew the smith to houseareens and then sat down to dine finner of roast sow and piggerkraut.

"What a pignominious end for such a peet little swig."

At Jean Macri's party last weekend a few new dances were taught. Pete Reid tried to teach the Twitch, and Bob Boyle had everyone in hysterics with his. No one can remember what the name of it was, though.

Andy deGrassi must have some attraction for trees, he was trying to climb Jean's oak tree this time. Some other couples there having a great time were John Walkerand, Noel Jones, Robin Wilson and Carol Pederson, John Rinne and Lari Axelsson, Rick Layne and Karen Kant, and Jean was with Steve Smith. Pam Dermitt, Mary Baker and Jane White were there with Pete, Bob and Andy, respectively.

Mr. Zunch's seventh period geometry class had quite a scare this week when a big hairy hand began banging on one of the windows while Mr. Zunch was out of the room. When he came in, the hand gave him a scrap of paper. We think Mr. Crabill has some pretty original ideas for communication.

Why does Rich Lyman have to have a piece of tissue passed clear across study hall to him practically every day? Well, first it was because he had a cold, but now we hear he has to get make-up off his face.

There was a pretty big commotion first period Monday when the announcements came that new driver training classes were starting. Better watch out!

The big Piston Pacer Rally Saturday was really terrific. The club has been working on it for some time and feel it turned out very successfully. It was a 43-mile course, but most had a mileage of about 60. The first prize was tires.

Some pretty sneaky questions were asked such as, "What is the color of the cross on top of the church?" when there wasn't a cross, and "How many links are there in the chain?" Well, there were approximately 517.

Some of those who enjoyed themselves on the rally were Pete Yeddida, Pam Dermitt, Jim Gilwee, Carol Troy, Ginger Ketsdever, Dick Niemi, Paul Scholberg, Carol Goldsmith, Don McMacken and Kitty Mika.

Newcomers Visit Guide Dogs Home

Twenty members of the Newcomers Club of Orinda and their guests were conducted on a most interesting tour through Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., in San Rafael, recently.

This was followed by a brief meeting at Marin Joe's where the group met for luncheon.

The next regular meeting will be held at the Orinda Country Club on November 9. It will be a bridge-canasta luncheon for members and their guests.

WHAT'S DOING
Howard Greenhalgh, your Telephone Manager in Orinda

Maintaining phone lines is a never ending job! To keep phone lines ready for your calls, men in Telephone Patrol planes fly along hundreds of miles of phone cable nearly every day. They're on the lookout for construction work or other hazards that might damage underground or overhead lines. They warn anyone on the ground working near cables by dropping notes or calling to them over the plane's loudspeaker system. Other cable patrols on foot, in trucks and snow vehicles travel along phone lines to spot hazards before they cause trouble. It seems like a lot of work, but this is the surest way to keep your telephone service ready for you, whenever you need it.

Surplus Equipment Aids Mount Diablo Therapy Center

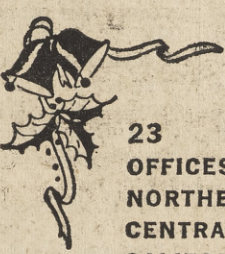

Through the combined efforts of Pacific Telephone Company Employees and the Lafayette Junior Larks, the above switchboard was donated to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center for use in Pre-Vocational testing and Work Sampling.

Left to right, Bob Weirich, P.B.X. repairman, and Bob Mattson, Buildings Mechanic, instruct Jerilee Hart in the proper use of the switchboard. These men volunteered their services on their own time to recondition and put the board in working order.

Miss Hart is one of several patients receiving instructive therapy at the Mt. Diablo Center. The center renders a complete rehabilitation service. They strive to set a physical, mental, social, and vocational goal for each individual patient.

Many organizations are considering other projects which will help to insure the continued success of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center. Pacific Telephone Women's Bible study is held at the church Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. A nursery is provided for those who need it.

The junior choir rehearses Friday at 4 p.m. in the church, under the direction of Jackie Fridell.

All third, fourth, fifth and sixth graders are welcome. They will begin preparation for the special family worship service on Christmas Day.

This church is affiliated with the American Baptist Convention.

Episcopal

At all three Sunday morning services, the Reverend C. Corwin Calavan will administer the Sacrament of Holy Communion, at 7:30, 9 and 11 o'clock in St. Stephen's Episcopal Church on Via Las Cruces in Orinda.

St. Stephen's Junior Choir will sing the Sicilian anthem, "Saviour Like a Shepherd Lead Us" during the family service at 9 a.m., and the Senior Choir will offer "Thou Knowest Lord the Secrets of Our Hearts" at the Choral Eucharist, at 11 a.m. Choirmaster Donald Loach will direct both groups.

Acolyte awards will be presented in conjunction with the 9 o'clock service, merit being recognized on the basis of length of service. One-year awards will be received by Harold Bond, Eric Christie, Sandy Cutler, John Den Dulk, Mike Fallentine, Doug Hamilton, Greg Holm, Kenneth Rands and Gary Woodcock; two-year, by Dave Cook and Peter Smyth; three-year, Clint DeWitt; four-year, Bob Bignami, Jim Effinger and Anthony Rogers; five-year, Richard Vivrette; and six-year awards will go to Jim Gilwee, Allan Hill, Larry Hurn, Mike Smyth and Scott McFarland.

St. Stephen's Parish Council will meet on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in Hill Memorial Hall, and on Wednesday, the Holy Communion and Healing Service will be conducted, with the prayer group meeting in the undercroft immediately afterward.

On Thanksgiving Day, Holy Communion will be administered at St. Stephen's at 8:30 a.m., and a joint service will be held at 10 a.m. with the congregation of St. Anselm's Episcopal Church at 682 Michael Lane in Lafayette.

Christian Science

Man's real, satisfying identity will be emphasized at Christian Science churches Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon on "Soul and Body."

Christian Science Churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda; 1437 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and in Concord at the corner of Grant and Park Streets.

Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at Kahrs Avenue and Boyd Road, Pleasant Hill, and Lafayette meets at 3422 Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Scriptural selections will include this verse: "I will praise thee; for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works; and that my soul knoweth right well" (Psalms 139:14).

To be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (302:3-8): "The material body and mind are temporal, but the real man is spiritual and eternal. The identity of the real man is not lost, but found through this explanation; for the conscious infinitude of existence and of all identity is thereby discerned and remains unchanged."

CD Man Speaks To Sorooptimists

Rusk Rigor, deputy director of Contra Costa County Disaster Office, spoke on "Civil Defense as it Applies to Business People" at the luncheon meeting of the Sorooptimist Club of Lafayette-Orinda.

"By planning for the worst disaster, a nuclear attack, the disaster office and a business or individual will be prepared to handle a lesser one such as an earthquake, fire, flood or explosion," said Rigor.

Rigor stressed, "In your home and your business, have an exact plan of action carefully worked out. Will you evacuate or go to a shelter? How will you get out of the room in which you happen to be when the alarm comes? Exactly what will you take; which blanket, coat, food, and how will you carry your drinking water? How will you preserve your business records or valuables? Who will take your place if you are wiped out?"

"If you have an exact disaster plan worked out, even if you panic you will start to follow this plan and it will have a steady influence," emphasized Rigor.

"This same basic plan can be followed with modifications or in part in case of any kind of disaster, and help to save lives and property. During any disaster," continued Rigor, "do not use the telephone. Tune your radio to Conrad and information will be given."

An observation school for church school teachers will be held at the First Christian Church in Oakland tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Rev. C. R. Hackel Is St. Mary's Administrator

Rev. Charles R. Hackel has been appointed by Archbishop John J. Mitty as administrator of St. Mary's Immaculate Conception Church in Walnut Creek.

Rev. Joseph E. McLaughlin is pastor of the parish, and Rev. Patrick P. McCarthy is assistant pastor.

For the last six years, Father Hackel has been director of Catholic Social Service of Alameda County, which maintains professionally staffed offices in Oakland and Hayward.

This is the section of Catholic Charities responsible for counseling, etc., in the fields of child welfare and placement, family counseling, aid to unwed mothers and other social work.

After his ordination, Father Hackel served as an assistant pastor at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco, then attended the postgraduate School of Social Service at National Catholic University in Washington, D.C., attaining the degree of Master of Social Work.

He has been in charge of Alameda County's Catholic Social Service for six years.

He has been active in the Alameda County United Fund and was chaplain of the Oakland police department.

He was spiritual director of Alameda County Central Council of the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, a founder and board chairman of JACKIE, also chairman of the county's Service Committee on Cerebral Palsy.

He was a member of the boards of Alameda County's Society for Crippled Children and its Legal Aid Society.

Men Serving on Advisory Board Of Girls' School

Two central county men are members of the newly-formed advisory board of directors of St. Mary of the Palms, which will celebrate its golden jubilee as a boarding home and school for small dependent girls Sunday.

They are Robert Kahn of Lafayette and Robert P. Raskob of Orinda. Raskob also serves as a vice president of the new advisory group.

St. Mary of the Palms is located near Mission San Jose and is operated by the Mission San Jose Dominican Sisters. It has served as a home and school for wards of the court, orphans and children who for various reasons cannot live in their own homes.

Theme of Sunday's celebration will be the old and the new—a review of 50 years of service in the child welfare field and an announcement of a major program expansion.

Raskob said the expansion will make possible treatment and rehabilitation of 120 troubled, pre-delinquent teenage girls whose problems, but for this care,

Moraga Minutes Christmas Decor Signals Coming of Thanksgiving

By YVONNE MAUZEY

Come in, wipe your feet on the beat-up mat that says "Welcome." We will hang your clothes to dry and have something hot.

I can tell by the Christmas decorations that Thanksgiving day must be just around the corner. The stuffed turkeys, pumpkin pies and all the trimmings will soon be in the making. I look forward to the frantic rush of the preparation of the feast. Then the leisurely weekend of nibbling on the leftovers.

Construction of the Camino Pablo School is really moving. The foundations have been dug, the steel set. The concrete was to be poured last Friday, though I imagine the rains held up the pouring. If you would like to stroll by the site now, you can tell the shape and size of the rooms.

The contract of the new music teacher, Dianne Bower, was approved and signed by the school board last week.

The Rheem Center Music Shop is going to furnish the instruments for the school band on a three-months rental basis. Then you may buy and apply the rent to the purchase price, or go on renting. The try-outs were held Wednesday.

The new board member was sworn in at last week's meeting. The curriculum committee was also approved at this time and members are Robert Amber, chairman; Bill Loomis, Lenore Mohrmann, Mr. Serol, members; Mr. Trask, representing the school; and Don Faulkner, representing the board.

It is hoped that more parents will attend the board meetings, held the first Monday of each month. They have been started for our benefit and Mr. Toll and the board hope to see more participation on our part. I am as guilty as any.

Last Wednesday San Ramon School played tag football at Rheem. Rheem won, 12 to 20. Rheem played Stanley at Lafayette the week before and won their game with them. Pat Freitas and the boys must really be working to beat these established teams. I understand they do their practicing at noontime at the school.

Today Mrs. Johnson, Orinda Spanish curriculum coordinator, and Mrs. Mott, head of the foreign language teachers' placement at the University of California, are giving demonstration lessons to our fourth, fifth and sixth grade children and teachers.

The sixth grade Girl Scouts of Troop 23, led by Ruth Salet and Jerry Tarpley, are planning to plant to plot of ground where the school name stands. There will be boxwood and yellow pansies and two shrubs at either end of the sign. Mr. King of King Nursery is donating the materials and has helped with the planning.

The new troop leaders are doing a wonderful job and are planning a great many things for the girls for the coming year. I will be reporting on them from time to time.

Mr. Toll and Mr. Trask have returned from their weekend in Santa Rosa with many ideas. A talk was given by Dr. Mary Sarvis, consulting psychologist for the Oakland schools. Theme: "Communication—Today's Greatest Needs." Lawrence Simon, attorney, public advisory committee in Oakland, talked on industry research applied to education. There was a display of educational material, TV closed circuits, science units and kits, reference books, the latest in office and playground equipment, etc.

The fifth and sixth grades took a trip to the Planetarium last Thursday. They were to be at San Francisco Golden Gate Park at 11 a.m., have lunch in the park, go to the exhibits, then to the aquarium to see the water animals, snakes and fish. They also saw the rock collections. They were to leave at 2 p.m. to be back at the school at 3 o'clock. This is an annual event, when the classes are studying the planets.

For the information of new students in the school or any parents who would like copies of the discipline and home work policies, these can be obtained at the Rheem School office.

The Moraga Valley Community Club held a general meeting Monday in the Miramonte multi-purpose room. A report was given on Moraga zoning. Anthony Dehaesus, associate planner, presented a proposed plan for rezoning of the Rheem area, and new officers were elected.

Institute Day This Year Is Real 'Back to School' Day

Editor's Note: The following is a report on Institute Day in the Lafayette School District, by Donald J. Williams, district director of educational services.

Many parents may have considered October 26 as a "day off" for their children and teachers, but to teachers, consultants and administrators as well as to several learned members of the Lafayette community, Institute Day this year was a real "back-to-school" day.

The teachers of the Lafayette School District spent the day in one or more workshops and in observing particularly interesting classroom programs in neighboring districts. In the morning, the following district workshops were held for the 137 teachers who elected to attend the district program.

AT LAFAYETTE School, a science workshop for kindergarten through sixth grade teachers was conducted by Don Williams and Frank Walrath of the district. The program was devoted to electricity, as that subject is treated in the district science teaching guides. Demonstrations were conducted, and teachers participated in discussions concerning the demonstrations, learning more about electricity and presentation of this information to the children in their classrooms.

Also going on at Lafayette School were demonstrations of the uses of maps, charts and globes in the classroom, which were presented to teachers of all grade levels by Robert Wulbert of the A. J. Nystrom Company. Teachers had an opportunity to discuss with Wulbert the uses of these materials and new developments in charts, maps and globes for classroom use by various companies.

IN THE BOARD room at the district office, Dr. Verner Wilson, staff associate of Science Research Associated, presented workshops on the S.R.A. reading program, which is an individualized program that a few teachers in our district have used and have found very successful.

At Stanley School, Jane Patorio, principal of Happy Valley School, and Barbara Fritz of the Stanley faculty presented a music workshop. The purpose was to help teachers to present a better music program for the children in their classrooms. They discussed the music teaching guides, new ideas and materials and the use of various musical instruments.

In the art room at Stanley School, Mrs. Doris Foley, consultant in elementary education for the Contra Costa County schools, demonstrated art techniques for teachers of grades one through six. The workshop covered the use of various art media in the classroom. Ron Firby of Lafayette demonstrated using lapidary minerals as an art form and how to create them by cutting and polishing stone.

AT FAIRVIEW SCHOOL, an exceptionally fine demonstration-discussion program was held for seventh and eighth grade science teachers under the leadership of Dr. Robert Brattain, Dr. Isadore Perlman and Jack Stellar of Lafayette, and Wallace Ernst of the University of California. The program was concerned with the science areas of properties of matter, light and plants. A great amount of knowledge was gained from these experts toward developing new ideas for classroom presentation.

The teachers spent the afternoon of Institute Day at their individual schools working on school problems relating to curriculum. Several schools joined to discuss some special areas of the curriculum to gain more ideas and information. Among the afternoon programs was the discussion meeting at Stanley School for Fairview and Stanley teachers on the mathematics program. There was a great deal of valuable discussion and information that will certainly be used in each of the classrooms for the benefit of the children.

MATHEMATICS was also the topic of discussion at the afternoon program at Happy Valley School for the first through the sixth grade teachers. Each teacher presented her particular grade level program so that all would have a broad view of the total program. After this presentation, problems were brought up by grade level and discussed.

Teachers of Springhill, Lafayette and Montecito Schools had a discussion of grading. This program was in line with the continuing effort of the school district to improve upon the process of pupil evaluation.

We feel that Institute Day was a tremendous success. The teachers have commented on the great value of these workshops and expressed their gratitude for the time and effort spent by the people who presented them.

DEL VALLE DOINGS

By DAVID ANDERSON

"So close, and yet so far," might well be the motto of our JV football team as they lost a share of the championship by half a game. Tasting only one defeat all year, at the hands of Miramonte, our boys finished up the season with a 5-1 league mark. Miramonte ended the season with five wins and one tie.

Going into the final game, we had to defeat Acalanes while Las Lomas had to defeat Miramonte if we were to win the title. We crushed Acalanes 12-7, but Miramonte turned the tables on Las Lomas 14-7.

OUR TEAM, composed only of sophomores (80 boys in the class), did a truly outstanding job as they defeated seven teams composed of both juniors and sophomores. Special mention should go to Bob Kovats, quarterback, and Burnell Poupenay, linebacker, who were elected co-captains by the team for their fine work.

IN HOPES of having a foreign exchange student at Del Valle next year, the Girl's League recently staged a vigorous magazine sales campaign. In just a week and a half, our girls sold enough subscriptions to push over the $2000 goal.

The three girls with the highest amount of subscriptions sold were: Karen Romascom with $64.30; Carolee Learner with $69.45; and Chris Peterson, $76.75. The top girls selected prizes of luggage, 17 jewel watch, and six-transistor radio respectively. Congratulations, girls!

DEL VALLE now has enough money for at least one foreign exchange student, and we hope to have sufficient money by the end of the year for another one.

On November 4, the Trojans were blessed with a new arrival. Temporarily named, "You Name It," the first issue of the Del Valle newspaper was published by a group of volunteers, under the direction of Mrs. Rice, typing instructor. With Leslie Mayland as temporary editor, the paper hopes to grow large enough to be printed regularly by the end of the year. If the first issue is any indication, we should have one of the best school newspapers in the area.

Two weeks ago, Mal Cameron, student body president and first string fullback on our JV football team, was honored by the Walnut Creek Optimist Club as Student of the Month. This award places a great deal of stress on school citizenship, as well as academic ability. In addition to receiving an individual plaque, Mal's name was engraved on a school plaque honoring Students of the Month. Good work, Mal!

OUR CROSS COUNTRY boys just completed a successful season by defeating the Las Lomas harriers by a score of 23-33 on the home course. (The team with the lowest score wins.) Bob Reeves, a Del Valle freshman, garnered first place as he ran the 1.9 mile course with a clocking of 10:02. With three more seasons to go in high school, we're expecting great things from Bob.

Running on a frosh-soph level, our small team of seven runners has done very well in competing against schools with a much larger lower class enrollment. Our boys won the last two meets of the season by defeating San Ramon and Las Lomas, respectively, finishing out the season with a 2-4 mark.

THE TENNIS season, changed just this year from spring to fall, also has come to an end. In our last match we bowed to Acalanes by a score of 2-5. Our team, composed mainly of freshmen, should come along very well next year with a crop of seasoned sophomores. Playing the junior varsity teams in the Foothill League, as well as Pleasant Hill, our racket squad compiled a 3-4 mark. Special mention should go to John Sowell, our first seeded player all year, for winning all of his matches. John Schring, a freshman, played No. 2 position on the team. We should hear a lot of good things from him next year.

Basketball season starts Wednesday. Go Trojans!

Del Valle Trains Teenage Drivers

Del Valle High School of Walnut is training teen-agers to become safe drivers again this year through its course in behind-the-wheel driver training.

The course consists of classroom study of traffic safety rules and sound driving practices as well as on-the-road supervised training in automobiles equipped with AAA dual controls.

Butler-Conti, Inc. of Lafayette is loaning a new car to the school for use in the program. The dual controls are supplied by the California State Automobile Association.

School Superintendent William H. Ross announces that Doug Pederson is the instructor.

Lafayette BPW Has Employee-Employer Day

Lafayette Business and Professional Womens Clubs met Friday at Kellogg's restaurant in Walnut Creek for its first employee-employer dinner.

Loretta Stasch, Bay Valley District program coordinator, was the guest speaker. She was introduced by Gayle Lea, program chairman. Miriam Cummings, president, said the event was so successful, the club plans to make employee-employer dinner day an annual event.

Those attending with their employers were Miriam Cummings with Ed Angus, chief accountant for Kaiser Engineers International; Alice Cook with Bob Cook, president Walnut Creek Electric.

Also Iris Casey, whose guest was Mrs. Eleanor Silverman, associate publisher of The Sun; Etta Thiele, whose guest was Frank Oddone, president Frank Oddone and Company; Lucille Simpson and Kathryn Dahlgren with Jack Marchant, president Marchant Development Company.

Louise Duke with Frosty Cummings, president Cummings Steel & Tubular Products; Evelyn Theriault with Mrs. William Richmond, office manager City Music Company; Ann King, with Robert Bates, assistant personnel manager, Kaiser International and Dorothy Pickering, a costume, dress designer, self-employed.

Depressed Transit Is Criticized

Four major reasons why Bay Area Rapid Transit engineers do not want to run the Walnut Creek lines in a "cut" below ground surface level were outlined this week in a letter by Richard Shephard, administrative representative.

Recipient was City Manager Laverne Kimball. Shephard said, "In order to get sufficiently below existing ground level north of the Walnut Creek station, the station would have to be below ground."

"This would involve a considerably greater expense than the surface-level station now proposed."

He also said a very deep cut, some 50 to 60 feet, would be required north of Ygnacio Valley Road. Also, "... any depressed construction in a built-up area such as that under consideration would require extensive and expensive relocation of existing underground utilities."

Shephard continued, "... if there were to be a depressed section with sloped sides, the area to be taken to provide for these slopes, in addition to that required for the trackage itself, would be so great as to be unacceptable to the people of Walnut Creek."

Shephard said a depressed section, with vertical or sloping sides,

6 Murders In 6 Months In County

Contra Costa County had six murders (willful homicides) during the first six months of this year, but none of them were reported in the central county, according to "Crime in California—Mid-Year Summary, 1960."

The report was issued by the State of California Department of Justice. It was compiled by the Bureau of Criminal Statistics.

The report does not cover the last six months or mention the death by shooting of a Walnut Creek woman two weeks ago. Her husband is being held, pending preliminary hearing.

MAJOR offenses in the county during the six months period totaled 2232, with burglaries accounting for 1505 of this figure.

The murders were divided as follows: three in Pittsburg, and one each in San Pablo, Richmond, and the unincorporated area.

In the county there were 781 forgery and bad check cases, 275 auto thefts, 162 assaults, 136 thefts (other than auto), 35 forcible rapes, also 249 miscellaneous major crimes.

Walnut Creek is listed as having 77 forgeries and bad check cases; 18 burglaries, eight auto thefts, three each of simple theft and assault, two unclassified crimes.

Acalanes Accents - There's a Feeling Here that You Can't Take It With You

By PENNY COUDEN

Students are madly buying tickets, the cast is "last minute" rehearsing, the make-up artists are applying their skills at the final dress rehearsal, costumes are hurriedly being altered and there is a general feeling of "senior play" in the air.

"You Can't Take It With You" is guaranteed to bring chuckles and laughter from all tonight and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Acalanes gym. Without the support and hard work of the entire senior class, this play would never have gotten off the script. It is under the direction of Mr. Bruce Reeves, English and drama teacher at our school. Tickets may be purchased at the door for $1.

Perhaps you can remember your last high school football game. That's the way it was for the seniors who rooted at the Acalanes vs. Las Lomas game last Thursday night. The 14-6 defeat we received dampened our spirits for only a little while—after all, it gives us more of an excuse to beat Las Lomas in basketball.

Reigning at the football festival last week were the princesses Carol Rossi, freshman; Pam Gaines, sophomore; Sandi Grant, junior; Marsha Worthing, senior and Penny Place, senior. Queen of the festivities was Darby Trainer. All paraded on their class floats, and Sheri Grant was the lucky one to be on the winning float. This float, decorated by the junior class, was called "Mr. Touchdown" and Judy David and Paul Thorton were in charge of its making. The junior class received $25 from the Rally Committee for this entry.

One hears a thundering herd daily after school now in the gym, rather than on the football field. Boys are beginning to practice their fancy shooting in hopes of making the team. Coach (and physiology teacher) Burt Barnett is supervising the workouts.

If the weather is looking blue, you can bet student faces are even bluer. First quarter report cards failed to bring smiles to every face. The one consolation is that it's just one quarter less to go.

A new bird has been peeping at students all over the school. Its appearance is somewhat owlish, but the weirdest part is that all it sings is "Buy it, buy it, buy it!" It's all part of the big campaign to sell Aklans, the school's year book.

George Klement Takes Part in Army Manuevers

Army Specialist Four George W. Klement, son of Mrs. Helene A. Klement, 10 Valley View Road, participated with other personnel from the 3d Armored Division in a field training exercise in Grafenwohr, Germany.

The six-week exercise was concluded recently.

Some 15,000 troops and more than 1,000 tanks and armored personnel carriers maneuvered over the rough and hilly terrain of the training area.

Klement, an information specialist in Company A of the division's 23d Engineer Battalion in Hanau, entered the Army in January, 1959, completed basic training at Fort Ord and arrived overseas the following July.

He attended Miramonte High School and was employed by Henderson Almonds, Lafayette, before entering the Army. His father, George R. Klement, lives in Santa Barbara.

King Graduated From Boot Camp

Denis C. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. King of 100 Lombardy Lane, was graduated from recruit training recently at the Naval Training Center in San Diego.

The graduation exercises, marking the end of nine weeks of "boot camp," included a full dress parade and review before military officials and civilian dignitaries.

In nine weeks of instruction, the "raw recruit" is developed into a Navy Bluejacket, ready for duty with the fleet.

Brothers Take Basic at Ford Ord

U. S. Army Private Joseph M. Brothers III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Brothers, Jr., of 233 La Espiral, is undergoing basic infantry training at Ford Ord.

The eight-week training program consists of such vital military subjects as rifle marksmanship, infantry tactics, first aid, military justice and the conservation and maximum utilization of military supplies.

Arel Is Studying Under NROTC

Gary Gilbert Arel of 34 Owl Hill Road is among the 44 young men from seven states who are attending Oregon State College under Naval ROTC midshipmen training appointments that pay all tuition fees for four college years.

In addition to tuition, Arel will receive books and uniforms, plus $50 per month, during his college career.

Students receiving the appointments are picked from top scorers in a nationwide written examination by state selection committees. They must also pass a rigid physical examination.

More than 30,000 young men took the test last fall and only about 2000 were selected for the college appointments.

Jarrett Elected To Company Post

Norman A. Jarrett, 6 Bonita Lane, has been elected vice president of Eldorado Insurance Exchange, California underwriters of workmen's compensation.

Before joining Eldorado in 1950, Jarrett served the Industrial Indemnity Company in an engineering capacity.

He will serve as manager of all of Eldorado's engineering activities and will divide his time between the firm's San Francisco and Los Angeles offices.

Featherstone Is New Sales Chief

William Featherstone, 15 Ichabod Lane, has been named product manager of the West Coast division of Hubbard and Company, it was announced this week.

Featherstone, formerly West Coast apparatus engineer, assumes the responsibility for sales and marketing, training and engineering.

He joined Hubbard and Company, Emeryville, in 1943, and has had a wide variety of responsibilities. He served with the armed forces from March 1945 to August 1946, and received his electrical engineering degree from the University of California in 1950.

Seifert Is Named To Florists Post

W. C. Seifert, Jr., of 39 Camino Encinas, has been appointed district representative for Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, it was announced this week.

Seifert, who is affiliated with Seifert's Floral Company in Oakland, has been a member of FTD for 28 years, and served as a director of the California State Florists' Association.

In his new post, Seifert will counsel and assist FTD members in this area in extending the national and international flowers-by-wire service.

Don't Throw That Gas Mask in the Trash Yet!

Smog is a dirty, four-letter word. But we've got it, right here at home. And it's worse in Alameda County.

The situation is somewhat like that mentioned by Mark Twain when he commented, "The trouble with weather is that everybody talks about it, but nobody ever does anything about it."

We're not quite in that mess when it comes to smog control, because there are people who are trying to do something about it.

The Bay Area Air Pollution Control District is entirely agreed that we do have smog and that it must be battled... and right now.

AND THE BOARD—and representatives of the 67 cities, 32 fire districts and six counties comprising the district — agrees that smog regulations must be enforced, but there is some disagreement as to how.

One contingent, a large one, is entirely on the side of local control. The other, headed by Smog Control Officer Benjamin Linsky, is all for creation of a central "smog police force" to control violations of smog regulations.

Let's face the brutal facts. Smog is already with us, and we could become another Los Angeles. In fact, we are becoming just that, and if we don't do something drastic about it right now, we'll be in for real trouble.

The Smog board, last week, went along with the proponents of local control, among them our own Dr. Henrick Blum, county health officer, and Harry Morrison, secretary-manager of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers Association.

AND THIS LOCAL contingent had plenty of help from Dr. James Malcolm, Alameda County health officer and the Alameda supervisors.

But Supervisor William Blake, a San Francisco representative of the board, agreed with the central enforcement agency plan to insure uniform control and enforcement.

Now, what is the problem?

First, it will cost more money to establish a 31-man central force, as proposed by Mr. Linsky. But there is every reason to believe that it would be effective.

What would the cost be? Right now you are paying one cent per $100 assessed valuation for smog control. If such a force were established, it might cost three cents, or even four cents at the most.

But isn't that worth it to ensure a smog-free environment?

We are going to be faced, within a year or so, with the problem of controlling the exhaust gases on our automobiles. We might also be faced, as is Los Angeles, with an embargo against burning our trash or leaves in the back yard.

WE HAVE GOT to be tough, when it comes to smog control. A local control officer is going to be faced with a lot more pressures than would a central agency man from San Francisco.

Suppose one of the huge industries located along our water front felt that the pressure from the local smog control officer was getting just a little too heavy? A call to the supervisor from his own area from an influential officer of the industry would be hard to ignore, and things might slow down.

This would be less likely to be the case with an outside central agency enforcing the controls.

Our local people are all excellent men, and they do good work, but they are simply subject to more pressures than an "outsider."

THE BOARD has voted for local control. It's cheaper, sure, and some people think it will be effective. We will go along, because we are for any kind of smog control we can get.

But it is our belief that we are literally playing with dynamite, and that in this case adequate, insured, proper control is well worth the few additional pennies on our tax bill.

It's better than running eyes, congested throats and gag pictures in the newspaper of local business men going to work in gas masks.

Remember. It happened in Los Angeles!

There Is a Santa ...

Worried about buying the youngsters all the toys they want for Christmas? Or what to send the kids of Uncle Johnny and Auntie Jane?

Well, think how you would feel if your own two or three youngsters were looking forward to a Christmas without a Santa Claus!

And there are families like that. Right here in the county, and many of them closer to home than you might think.

So, to make sure that there isn't a child in the area who must do without jolly Saint Nick, "Santa Claus Anonymous" has been formed. This group involves many service organizations in the central county area and will be coordinated through the Christmas Bureau, a county-wide bureau operating within the Volunteer Bureau.

And this group needs toys. Church groups, Boy and Girl Scouts and PTA's are now preparing to collect canned goods and toys. Senior Citizens in each of our communities are preparing to give finishing touches to donated toys.

So take a look around the house and see if you can't really do without that doll that Janie refused to accept graciously from a maiden aunt. Some youngster needs it.

And your Christmas—and your child's—will be the happier for the experience of this kind of giving.

A Pretty Fine Place ...

Sometimes it pays to stop, take a deep breath, and just pause for a look around. Especially in this fast-paced day and age.

We are prone, in these editorial spaces, to do a little complaining from time to time. Of course, we prefer to call it constructive criticism. And frankly, we like to feel that it helps solve some of our problems. Or you who read these editorials take action and the solution gets worked out.

But next Thursday is Thanksgiving Day, and it's time to take a look around us... maybe from a little different point of view.

WE LIVE in the best place in the world. This is a wonderful community. We have nice people with whom to work and play, and we have beautiful and excellent schools.

Our neighbors are hard working people, both in their professional lives and in their devotion to community service. They are trying to improve our community, and we are thankful for them.

Many of them work on official boards, for which they get few thanks and many headaches, and many many more of them work on committees. And this applies to the women, just as much as the men.

OUR PUBLIC officials make nasty butches now and then, but basically they are trying their best.

So when you step back and look, we live in a pretty wonderful community full of equally wonderful people.

And we are thankful.

The Staff Corner Watch Those Bottles!

By DICK OSBORN

We'd all be in the soup. Just think! He knows what you eat, what you drink, whether or not you've had company, whether you're still up, and whether or not you keep your weeds cut down.

And he knows all about your neighbors, too.

BUT YOU KNOW, he keeps it all to himself! And he still smiles when he meets you. Sort of like a psychoanalyst with a truck and a garbage can.

And when he drops those bottles and cans, it really isn't his fault, it's yours for trying to get around paying for a bigger garbage can.

Or for having too many parties.

Most of the time he's quiet as can be. The only time he makes noise is when the garbage can is overflowing. And that's because of a party.

And that's when you can't stand the noise.

We don't know about you, but we're going to reform.

And then maybe, someday, we can smile back at the garbage man with a clear conscience.

ARCHITECTS
Dear Editor:

I have read with interest the editorial which appears in The Sun, October 14, entitled "A Close Look at School Boards and Architects." Since I am a partner in the firm of architects which is working with the Acalanes Union High School District on both the Del Valle and Rheem High School projects, I read your article most attentively.

A few of the points deserve comment:

Your article states: "For example, grading and drainage work at the new Rheem High School will cost $253,000. Which also goes to prove that architects can be wrong. The estimate for the work was $298,000." There were nine bona fide bids offered by contractors for this grading work. The high bid was in the amount of $347,111, the low bid was $253,000. The average of all bids was $303,951. Under what combination of circumstances would you judge the architect to be right?

YOU QUOTE from document No. 100-37 issued by the California Council, American Institute of Architects: "The architect employed for the original project shall be employed for any project whose construction is based upon the re-use of his original plans."

The above quote is a recommendation of this body for the guidance of school boards. We serve the district at the pleasure of the school board; it may choose to discontinue our services at any time it feels the district's interests would be better served by another architect.

ALTHOUGH we prepared the original plans for the Del Valle High School which are now being modified and re-used for the Rheem High School, we were appointed by the board which at the time was free to make any choice of architects it wished. The board is under no contractual obligation to employ the same architect if it does not choose to do so.

Your editorial states: "Sure, we're saving money this way, but why 4.3 per cent? Why not 3.5 per cent, or even 4 per cent?" Four and three-tenths per cent was jointly agreed upon by the school board and by the architects since it represents a reasonable compensation for the service rendered.

When working for a school district the job of the architect is to design a school building. The preparation of the drawings from which the buildings are built is a minor part of this service.

When re-using a set of plans the architect is required to do many things, a partial list of which follows:

INCORPORATE changes in code requirements in the plans. Adjust plans to meet new soil conditions and new site contours.

Re-plan distribution system of all utilities.

Prepare new sets of bidding documents with new wage scales for all trades.

Evaluate bids when received and coordinate all matters pertaining to the signing of the contract.

Secure approvals of all district, county and state agencies.

Examine and approve insurance policies required of contractors.

Certify to the district contractor's requests for progress payments.

SUPERVISE all phases of construction work by general contractor and subcontractors.

Prepare and file progress reports on construction to state.

Determine acceptability of completed project and recommend acceptance to the district when the project is ready.

Make periodic inspection of completed plant during first year of operation.

Consult with district on problems in the operation of the plant.

I am attaching herewith a copy of a procedure schedule

"Thank You, Lord..."

We Like It Here... Just So Much Spinach & A Side Dish of Baloney!

By MARIE MONAHAN

I'M JEALOUS!

There's another woman in my life & she's giving me some keen competition. In the kitchen.

Things could be worse... but right now my meat loaf is taking a beating. When one's children boast about another woman's cooking, oh, how it rankles!

Since my own lunchbag brigade has been buying a few lunches a week at the school cafeteria, why, they're really not worth living with. Or cooking for.

It's not that my meat loaf couldn't stand some improvement. Personally, I don't think it could. But it's all the OTHER menu items they consume in the cafeteria without a grouch or a grump that so far have been spurned on the home front.

Spinach is just spinach but I try to do DO things to it. At school it's still just spinach & the kids come home raving. It's enough to send a conscientious mother & cook back to cooking school.

IF I RATIONALIZE a little, I figure its that long lapse between their morning oatmeal & their noon meal that makes ANYTHING taste good.

Then it sounds like I'm belittling the school cooks. I'm glad they prepare such good menus. But you can't live on pizza, meatballs, spaghetti & chili morning, noon & night.

BUT the children THINK they could! DEEP DOWN, I suppose I'm relieved that the kiddies aren't complaining. After all, it does give me some rest from wrestling with & wrapping their sandwiches, cookies & carrot sticks in the mad rush of a normal morning.

I limit them to two school lunches a week. They spend hours poring over the monthly menu & circling their special days. With little side notes to me: "Please" & "My favorite!"

The rest of the time I break out the crisp brown bags, filling them with choice goodies for the fuss pots. But seldom do I rate the reviews the school cooks get.

No. 1 is a peanut butter & jelly fan. He is a non-fruit eater, not even one rosy red apple like the proverbial doctor ordered. So his lunch is made with my eyes closed.

No. 2 LOVES olive, egg & tuna. But to make THESE right, one has to sample as one goes along. Tasting a tuna mix at 7 a.m. is a tough thing to face with one's first gulp of morning coffee.

TO PLEASE my "hungry, growing boy" (that is how my 13-yr. old describes himself) I make his ham & cheese sandwiches just the way he likes 'em... Loaded with lettuce, no mustard, please & plenty of bread & butter pickles.

I add a piece of chocolate cake & half a fruit basket. BUT it's all in vain.

They take me for granted & still prefer the school spaghetti. So if you can't lick 'em, join 'em. RIGHT?

I'm off to school to lunch today. They're serving those "heavenly hot rolls" & who knows? Maybe I can con the cook out of her recipe.

Letters to The Editor

prepared by our office as a check list for all reviews and approvals required by all public agencies. A careful study of this will demonstrate to you that approximately 140 approvals of public agencies are required from the start of planning to the completion of construction. The above is a partial description of our services which will probably extend over a period of two and a half or three years, for which we are paid 4.3 per cent.

YOU STATE that these new high school plants cost in the neighborhood of one million dollars. You are correct, and this is a large sum of money. The real job of the architect is to act as an agent for the school district in the matter of investing wisely this sum of $1 million. The fee that is paid to the architect is compensation for the seemingly endless study of evaluating new materials and equipment, devising structural systems, making suitable provisions for first cost economy and long term low maintenance cost of each school plant facility.

My experience in the design of school plants has extended over a period of nearly 40 years. I cannot take lightly my responsibility for investing large sums of money for the school district. If our compensation is less than 8 per cent for the preparation of new plans, or less than 4.3 per cent for the re-use of plans, my efforts must be correspondingly reduced and the district will probably assume something of a risk in the investment in its million dollar school plant.

JOHN LYON REID

Under The Sun Wanna Know How We Vote In Our Suburban Areas?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

If the votes in this area had decided last week's election, who would have won? (Trumpets!)

President: Richard Nixon.

Congressman: John Baldwin.

State Senator: George Miller (by a hair over King Parker).

Assemblyman: George Krueger.

As you well know by now, Mr. Nixon is not our president-elect, nor Mr. Krueger our assemblyman-elect. And without solid majorities in Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill, voters of central Contra Costa would have selected Republican King Parker to replace Democrat George Miller Jr. as our state senator.

In other words, this area voted republican.

This is no startling revelation.

Stick with our party label

Central Contra Costa is a republican stronghold, the only one in the county. This we have all known for years. However, it is noteworthy that we stuck close to the party label in our voting, while many other suburban sections of the country did not. Nixon did not get the heavy majorities in many important suburban areas that the republicans had expected.

Let's spend a few minutes studying how you and your neighbor voted. For this discussion, we'll include the following towns of central Contra Costa: Orinda, Lafayette, Moraga (including Canyon), Walnut Creek, Saranap (between W.C. and Lafayette but still designated as separate precincts), Pleasant Hill, Alamo and Danville.

Nixon swept this area 2 to 1—29,769 to 15,114. He took every town, ranging from Orinda's 3 to 1 to a closer poll in Pleasant Hill, 5 to 4. Nixon won in every precinct except four in Pleasant Hill and one at St. Mary's College. Two in Pleasant Hill were tied. The most Nixonish precinct was Orinda 7A, with better than 10 to 1 for Dick.

County is divided

Today's column cites unofficial tallies, not including absentee votes.)

Although overwhelmingly democrat, the entire county favored Kennedy by only 13,000 votes. The county as a whole followed the nation-wide pattern, voting for the man rather than solely by party.

This is especially apparent in the race for congressman. Contra Costa favored Republican John Baldwin over Democrat Douglas Page by roughly 24,000 votes.

This is certainly a surprise. Running in a heavily democrat, highly unionized county, Congressman John walked away from his opponent. He also did this in Solano county.

Since I'm a "shrewd, political observer," I recently said the odds favored Page to unseat Baldwin. I was not alone. And actually the odds did favor Page.

A Kennedy landslide was expected in Contra Costa; Page had tied his campaign to Kennedy; Page had a 10,000 vote lead over Baldwin in the primary. Then, why did Baldwin win by a landslide?

What do you think?

My guess is that the voters, regardless of party, gave Baldwin a rousing vote of confidence because they consider him a darn fine man. He is not flashy. He will never be a top leader in the house of representatives.

The voters, however, recognized that Baldwin is a hard-working, conscientious, serious, honest, dependable congressman who does his best for the district. This was not a vote AGAINST Challenger Doug Page; it was a vote FOR John Baldwin.

Page, a Walnut Creek city councilman, made one major mistake. His main argument was, "Vote for me because I am a democrat." This might have worked had the temperament of the voter been different. But Doug, who is a mighty nice guy, wasn't alert enough to change his "democrat argument" even when appearing before a republican audience.

He certainly didn't win any republican votes when he debated Baldwin at the Sun Candidates' Night. He unnecessarily antagonized a predominately republican audience. He could have learned a lesson from former Congressman Bob Condon, democrat, who always made the most of his appearance before republicans. Incidentally, the republican audience wasn't as polite as they could have been to Doug Page.

Baldwin wins all

Baldwin carried every town in our area by heavy majorities. The total in central Contra Costa was 34,488 to 9,864. In Page's hometown of Walnut Creek, Baldwin won 8036 to 2685. Page carried one Walnut Creek precinct—No. 43 by 20 votes.

Incumbent State Senator George Miller Jr. smeared Challenger King Parker in the county vote—by 72,000 votes. Miller chalked up the largest vote of any candidate for any office.

But in our area, Miller barely nosed out Parker—23,564 to 20,089. Parker was first in Orinda, Lafayette and Alamo by small majorities. Miller won the other towns but not by much. Parker lives and works in this area.

Waldie loses here

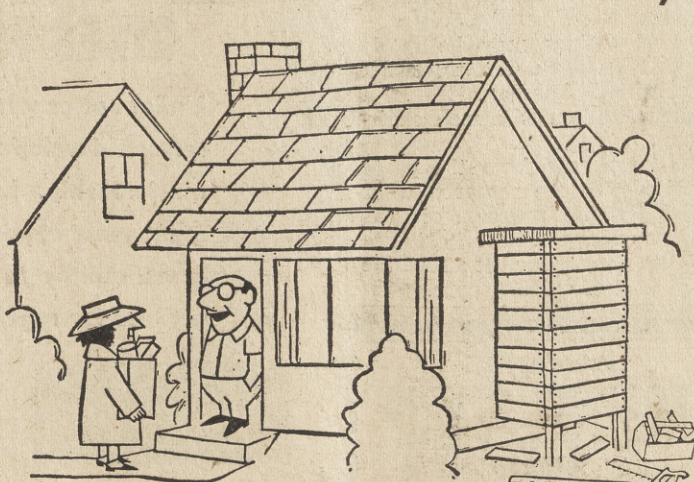

For State Assemblyman, Incumbent Jerome Waldie was reelected over Republican George Krueger by 20,000. But our area favored Krueger, 25,035 to 18,592. Every town here went for Krueger, a Concord city councilman, except Pleasant Hill. Democrat Waldie took Pleasant Hill by 900 votes. Lafayette and Orinda selected Krueger by about 2 to 1; in other towns Krueger tallied small majorities.

Propositions 1 and 15 earned heavy "no" votes here. Both propositions were harmful to the county and yet in our area 5400 voted yes for Prop. 1 and 3870 voted yes for Prop. 15.

Well, the election is over—at last. It certainly shows democracy at work. Now, let's watch our elected officials and see how they perform.

There's another election in two years.

Champion Dan Arena Won Fine Family, Too

BY JEAN JERNIGAN

The thrill and glamour of high powered inboard racing have been a part of the lives of Dan and Peggy Arena since both were youngsters in Oakland High School.

Dan, now vice president of Arenacraft and a noted naval architect and marine engineer, had his first taste of fame when he was just 15 and won the Pacific Coast Inboard Boat Championship.

A YOUNG man who knew where he was headed and determined to get there, at the age of 20 he went to Detroit with a homemade boat and speeded away with second place in the Gold Cup races.

"Dan competed with all the costly Gold Cup speedboats from all the countries," Mrs. Arena recalled proudly. "He designed and built his own boat, getting parts here and there, scrounging around garages and finally coming up with a finished product that was second only to Italy in the Gold Cup."

Arena has won every major inboard racing event in the United States, and also held the World's Straightaway record. He retired from the field six years ago and is now devoting his time to designing, although Mrs. Arena added, "He would still like to try again for another straightaway record."

It has been a rewarding experience to have served with this group since its inception. Mrs. Alden DeLancey and Mrs. Herbert Phillips were the originators of this unit and they have done a wonderful job," Mrs. Arena continued.

"WE TRY to maintain an active membership, and anyone who is interested may contact us. Occasionally there are openings in the unit and we are happy to welcome anyone who would care to join us," she added.

A unique member of the Arena family is a Red Susskin from New Zealand, given to the family by the Dean of Ornithology at the University of California.

"He's a homely little bird, sort of orange in color and resembling a drab canary, but he sings nine arias beautifully. His repertoire has been recorded and is used in the aviaries at the university," Mrs. Arena said.

The Arenas have another pet, nine month old Shadow, an enormous German Shepherd. "When we first brought him home, he was tagging along after my little girl and she remarked, 'Look how long my shadow is,' hence the name Shadow," laughed Mrs. Arena.

With the age of the jet well under way, Mr. Arena designs both jet and propeller craft. Who knows, one day in the future he may bring another world's record home to Lafayette, with the speediest hydroplane ever!

What's it like to be married to the first man ever to achieve a speed of 100 miles per hour on the water... the first man to build a successful fibre glass inboard pleasure boat?

LIFE IN their new home at 3334 St. Mary's Road, Lafayette, is similar to that of all happy suburbanites, with perhaps a little added zest.

The Arenas met in high school. "You could say we were childhood sweethearts," she remarked, "but there was a period of about seven years when I didn't see Dan while he was busy in the east carving a future for himself."

They were married in Corpus Christi Church in Piedmont in 1941. Their son, Christopher (Kit), now 14, was born in California, as were both the Arenas, but daughter Christine (Christy) who is eight, was born in Michigan.

Kit, a freshman at Del Valle High School, is interested in anything that has a "mechanism"... boats, and cars primarily. "He makes lots of models," his mother said, "and he also has a go-cart that he is getting ready for competition."

CHRISTY is a Bluebird and a student at Burton School. "It's horses, horses, horses with Christy," her mother exclaimed. "We have a back yard full of hay and she has $60 saved toward a horse."

Swimming in their pool is high on the list of Arena family fun, and they like to entertain frequently. A lady who loves to cook, Mrs. Arena delights her dinner guests with a special rice mold, filled with sour cream, Jamaican seasoning and fresh shrimp.

Leisure time pleasure for Mr. Arena, according to his wife, is "design, design, design!" When she has time, she makes all of her daughter's clothes.

Both of them are deeply interested in the work of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center and have given many hours of service. Mrs. Arena is president of the Cardinal Unit.

"WHEN WE first came out this way, I took a drive with a friend out to Diablo Valley College. I noticed the attractive building on Golf Links Road and inquired about it," Mrs. Arena recalled.

"Learning about the wonderful work done at the center, and how hard the units had worked to raise money for the building, made me want to be a part of it."

"The Cardinal Unit is going into its fourth year of opera-

Sale of Christmas Cards To Aid Childrens Hospital

A Christmas card that brings greetings of the season to the recipient and funds to Children's Hospital of the East Bay to help in its part-pay program is the new project of the hospital's branches.

Designed by Mrs. Homer B. Wheeler of Orinda, an associate member of Hill Junior Branch, the card pictures an angel standing guard over the Christ Child.

Using the Children's Hospital's colors, the card itself is blue, the imprinting white. The message reads: "In the spirit of Christmas, this card brings you good wishes and benefits Children's Hospital of the East Bay."

The design was selected by the Christmas card committee from a number of entries by branch members and their friends.

Mrs. Thomas Kling of Orinda, a member of Mayten Branch, is among those serving on the Christmas card committee.

Orders for cards may be sent to the Office of the Branches, 731 52nd Street, Oakland 9.

Heidi Fashion Show Will Feature Handmade Gifts

Tickets for Heidi Chapter's 12th Annual Fashion Show and Luncheon December 1 at Castlewood Country Club are still available, according to Mrs. James Newcomb, publicity chairman. They may be obtained from any Heidi member or by calling Mrs. R. H. Locky of 855 Sibert Court, Lafayette.

Many days of final preparation are being spent by Heidi members in workshop meetings to complete the items for the surprise gifts to be sold in the lobby before the luncheon.

Handmade gifts will be available for Christmas giving and guests who attend the party annually look forward to these unusual bargains.

Local matrons lending their talents as models to Heidi Chapter for the fashion show will be Mesdames Don Parle White, B. S. Ginsburg, William Seifert Jr. of Orinda, Robert H. Goodale, R. L. Pierson, James L. Hicks and Lloyd E. Kindall Jr. of Lafayette and James Robinson and Jack Turman of Walnut Creek.

"High in fashion importance will be the beautiful and varied prints, both silk and cotton, to be seen in the winter resort and early spring collections," says Lowell Trautman, fashion specialist and commentator for the show.

All proceeds of the party go to Children's Home Society, a member of United Crusade and the oldest private adoption agency in California.

Winter Ball Festivities Begin Soon

College homecomings for Christmas herald the heady pace that December promises for the young Winter Ball debutantes as well as their contemporaries.

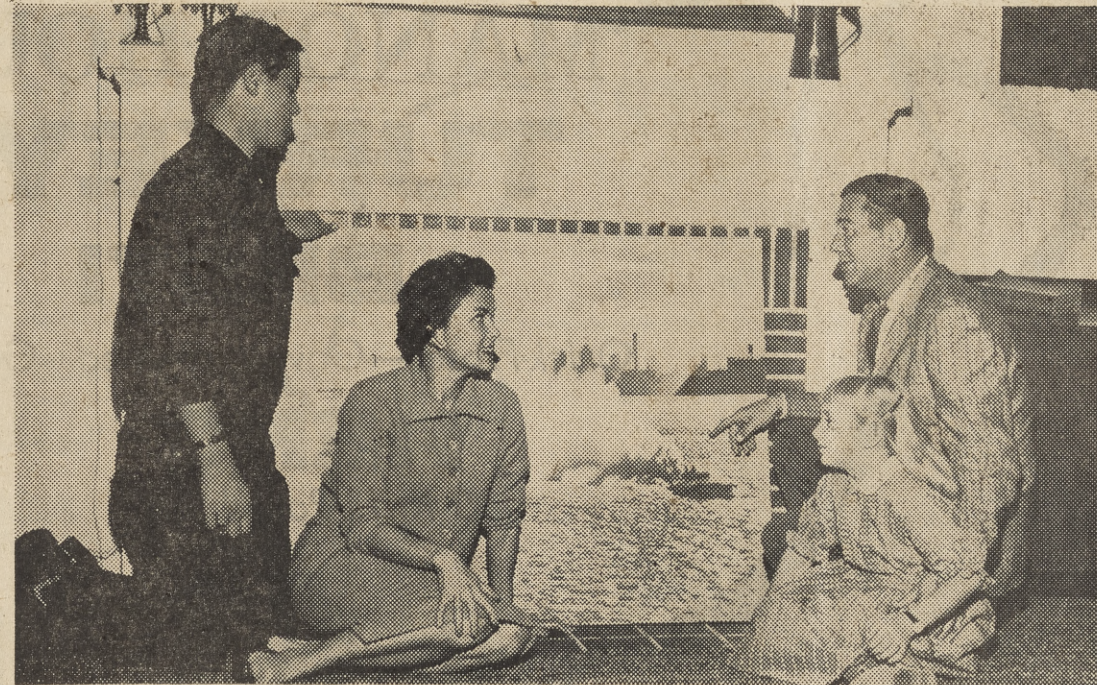

The annual Children's Hospital benefit, at which local Bay Area buds bow to society, is slated for December 22, but up until that time and for a slight period into the brand new year, there are few blank spaces remaining on the calendar.

Among parties to be held this side of the tunnel is the luncheon on December 19 when Miss Cherie Sharpe of Orinda will hostess in honor of her contemporaries, Misses Joan Borden, Sylvia Bolman and Deborah Smith.

Both Deborah and Sylvia will be honored again the following day, December 20, at another luncheon to be given by Mrs. Frederick Henderson at her Piedmont home.

Members of Hill Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay, sponsors of the tried and now truly traditional gala cotillion affair, will also hostess three special parties, including the debutante tea, and the parties for both the floor and usher committees.

Among the local sponsors for the 1960 Winter Ball are the Messieurs and Mesdames E. F. Cardin Jr., Frank Fee, Edgar Kaiser, James Sharp and Dr. and Mrs. Paul Samson, all of Orinda, as well as the George Monroe Greenwoods of Moraga.

County Gets Grading Ordinance

Contra Costa County's first more than a year by officials, and home builders, will become Mel F. Nielson of Lafayette, grading ordinance, debated for real estate brokers, contractors effective December 9. Board of Supervisors chairman, recalled the controversy which arose a year ago when the regulation of excavating, grading and embankment construction was first suggested, as the board adopted the measure without a single protest and with the endorsement of the Homebuilders Association. The ordinance requires county permits for all such work and sets regulations aimed at protecting neighboring property and public facilities from nuisance and damage from dust, noise, mud flows, erosion and flooding. It authorizes the county building inspector to issue permits to property owners after he is furnished with detailed plans and maps for each project. It allows him to require a bond to guarantee proper completion of the work if he feels it might interfere with drainage, endanger adjoining property or a street or might create a hazard to human life.

County May Need $5 Million Loan

Contra Costa County may need, before December 1, because of its tight budget, in order to meet expenses before tax revenue is available, and McNamer has informed the County Auditor-Controller how county supervisors.

The supervisors authorized borrowing of the funds from local banks on tax anticipation notes if necessary. McNamer said that the shortage, which will last less than four weeks, occurred because the county has continually reduced its cash carryover balances each

June 30 and has cut the need for reserves through tighter budget controls. Contra Costa County carries only $1 million of a nearly $40 million total budget as its re-

Cost of the short term loans to the taxpayers cannot be more than $2000, McNamer said. He added that there is a 95 out of 100 chance the county will not need to borrow anything.

Miramonte Wins Four League Titles

Cross Country Team Is Undefeated for 3rd Year

The Miramonte Matadors have had their best fall sports season ever as their football varsity came up with their best ever, their Jayvee football eleven won the title and their frosh gridders wound up second.

The undefeated tennis team copped the title but none presents a better all around performance than the Miramonte Foothill champ cross country teams.

The Miramonte harriers under Coach Don Campbell have had a bright season as they swept all opposition before them in league meets and climaxed the season with a win on the varsity and frosh-soph level in the Foothill League meet held last week.

LOW SCORE pays off in cross country as those up front get the low numbers and that's where the Miramonte runners have been all season long.

League meets and their scores were as follows: Varsity—Miramonte 15, Las Lomas 50; Miramonte 18, Piedmont 38; Miramonte 15, Acalanes 47; Miramonte 15, San Ramon 46; Miramonte 21, Alhambra 37.

Frosh-soph: Miramonte 15, Las Lomas 50; Miramonte 19, Piedmont 43; Miramonte 15, Acalanes 49; Miramonte 17, Del Valle 45;

Orinda JVs Are League Grid Champs

The Miramonte Matadors walked off with the junior varsity Foothill League title after winding up the season with a 14-7 win over Las Lomas last Wednesday in a game played at Walnut Creek.

Other game results on the same afternoon found Piedmont pasting Alhambra, 33-0, while Del Valle edged Acalanes, 13-7.

Acalanes, in a makeup game last Monday, tied Piedmont, 7-7. Miramonte was undefeated and tied once, with the complete final standings as follows:

Miramonte	5	0	1
Del Valle	5	1	0
Las Lomas	3	3	0
San Ramon	3	3	0
Acalanes	1	4	1
Alhambra	0	6	0

Piedmont Defeats Alhambra 45-32, To Tie Acalanes

The Piedmont Highlanders had plenty of offense last Friday night in their game with Alhambra High at Martinez as they rolled up 45 points, but also had defensive problems as the Martinez Bulldogs put 32 points of their own on the scoreboard.

It was 7-6, favor of Piedmont, at the end of the first quarter after Alhambra scored first with a nine-yard pass from quarterback Bill Hitt to halfback Keith Thomas. The conversion try was wide.

Bob Jones, fleet Piedmont back, evened the score on an 88-yard gallop, and Piedmont was out in front to stay when Jones added the extra point on a line buck. The issue was really settled in the final, second quarter when Piedmont culled 19 points to the Bulldogs' six.

Mats' Varsity, JV Tennis Teams Go Undefeated

Tennis coach Harry Trutton of Miramonte is mighty proud of his racquet wielders as they have just finished an undefeated season in varsity and junior varsity Foothill League play, to cop a pair of titles.

The Mats tied with Acalanes and Piedmont for top varsity honors in 1959, but stand all alone with an undefeated record in 1960.

THE VARSITY squad, consisting of Gary Rose, Dick Stark, Gerry Hopkins, Jim Gilwee, Bob Harper, Mike Saputo, Kirk Long, Ron Hudson and Bob Martin, won three practice matches and 10 league meets to go unscathed.

In practice tilts they defeated Pleasant Hill, who won the Contra Costa Division race, 7-0, bobbed Albany, 7-0, and racked Vallejo, 5-0.

League scores were as follows: San Ramon, 7-0; Acalanes, 7-0; Alhambra, 7-0; Las Lomas, 7-0; Piedmont, 7-0; San Ramon, 7-0; Acalanes, 6-0; Alhambra, 7-0; Las Lomas, 6-1; Piedmont, 7-0.

IT IS INTERESTING to note that Las Lomas spoiled a perfect record as they won one match, the first doubles.

In the junior varsity competition they defeated Acalanes, 4-3; Del Valle, 7-0; Las Lomas, 4-3; Pleasant Hill, 7-0, and San Ramon, 7-0.

Acalanes Draws With Piedmont in Foothill League

The Acalanes Dons and the Piedmont Highlanders wound up in a tie for the varsity grid title as the Dons dropped a 14-6 decision to Las Lomas while Piedmont nailed Alhambra in a free scoring 45-32 game.

Final results:

	W	L	T	P	S	P	A
Acalanes	4	1	0	72	33
Piedmont	4	1	0	116	65
Las Lomas	3	1	1	88	65
Miramonte	2	2	1	58	61
Alhambra	1	4	0	80	92
San Ramon	0	5	0	21	129

Football Title To Don Freshmen

The Acalanes Don Babes, tied once but undefeated, won their fifth consecutive frosh title as they wrapped up the top spot with a 21-7 win over Piedmont in a makeup game Monday.

In a regular round of play last week, Acalanes defeated Del Valle, 14-7, while Miramonte edged Las Lomas, 2-0, and Piedmont dropped Alhambra, 6-0.

Final standings:

Acalanes	5	0	1
Miramonte	5	1	0
Las Lomas	4	2	0
San Ramon	3	3	0
Del Valle	1	4	1
Piedmont	1	4	1
Alhambra	1	5	0

'Peerless' Prof Picks Cal Bears in Big Game

A tired and, at times, weary Soss Opple, ever hopeful and still optimistic, comes up with another series of peerless picks. A good finish is a good season—so say the losers—and being in that category, Soss Opple subscribes to the saying.

The so-called Big Game is on tap at the Cal stadium and it can truly be called the Big Game when two clubs who have won but one game between them can fill the stadium with some 80,000 fans—give or take a fan at $5 a head.

The question is, who will win? Old Soss Opple has a bit of blue and gold in his veins and must admit that it is difficult not to let prejudice, instead of judgment, reign. Based on logic, it's Cal who has one game to Stanford's none.

Their running is better and it will be the Cal backs vs. Skip Face of Stanford, a veritable work horse, and most capable, and he could outcarry, the Cal backfield!

Stanford has the passing on paper, while Cal has a passer in Randy Goff, who for some strange reason, hasn't been used to that capacity to the extent most thought he would be. Gold's passing could be Levy's secret weapon. Dick Norman of Stanford will throw plenty to set a real all time Stanford record. Stanford has set more passing records and lost more games do-

Devils Defeat Pleasant Hill For Third Title

The Mt. Diablo Red Devils wound up as the Contra Costa County League champions for the third year in a row. They climaxed an undefeated league season last Friday night as they dropped the visiting Pleasant Hill Rams, 34-20.

The Concord eleven gave the home town fans something to cheer about in the opening quarter when they rolled 68 yards in eleven plays with halfback Dave Jones scoring on a six-yard run around left end and the extra point came via the same route.

THE RAMS kept in the ball game when they put on a 67-yard drive of their own early in the second quarter. Ten plays put the ball on Diablo's one and halfback Bob Kunselman rapped over guard for the necessary yardage. It was 7-6 as Lenn White misused on the placement try.

The Devils wasted little time in adding to their point total as Jones and fullback Tom Brown ripped for yardage that wound up with a touchdown when Jones hit pay dirt from six yards out. Larry Bisso, a swift halfback, added the extra point as he ran the left end.

Diablo held after kicking off, forcing the Rams to punt in turn which was blocked by tackle Rick Wells and Diablo end Jim Leonard picked it up and raced 34 yards to tally and made it 21-6 on a pass play.

IN THE SECOND half, Diablo posted 13 points in the third quarter when Jim Fraga intercepted a pass and scored from 45 yards out and the next touchdown came when a blocked punt gave Diablo possession on the Ram's 38 and wound up with a touchdown on a pass that covered the final 12 yards. Jones ran it over for the extra point.

Pleasant Hill got the game's final two touchdowns in the fourth quarter, with quarterback Nelson Shelton hitting end Terry Hughes for the final two yards and the other six coming when Nelson hit end Dick Dole with a four-yard pass in the final 10 seconds.

Rams Get Tie for Second in League

The Mt. Diablo Red Devils won the Contra Costa Division football title for the third consecutive year as they wound up last Friday night with a 34-20 win over Pleasant Hill for an undefeated league season.

Pittsburg, a powerhouse in the past, fell to an all-time low as they wound up in the cellar without a win.

Final standings:

Mt. Diablo	5	0	0	131	58
Pleasant Hill	3	2	0	72	76

Miramonte Closes Season With Win Over San Ramon

The Miramonte Matadors, who have played bang-up football all season long, climaxed their best season ever on a varsity level as they pounded out a 20-7 win over the San Ramon Wolves.

The two elevens battled on even terms in the opening quarter and then each placed seven points on the score board in the second period of play.

THE HOME CLUB got theirs when San Ramon's quarterback Casey Evans returned an intercepted pass to score from the one, after running the ball back 59 yards. Evans also ran over the conversion.

Miramonte came back scrapping and it paid off as quarterback Bill Hilger hit halfback Bill Kent on a 14-yard pass and then ran the end to make it seven all at the half.

Miramonte iced the contest in the third and fourth quarters as they scored a touchdown in each. In the final quarter, Miramonte rolled 62 yards to score while using seven plays in the process. Casey Evans returned an intercepted pass to score from the one, after running the ball back yards.

Prep Basketball Practices Are Now in Full Force

The Ski Line

First Big Sierra Snow Gives Impetus to Season

By HEC HANCOCK

How about that! Here is it merely the middle of November, and the Sierra has already had over three feet of snow!

For the first time in almost 15 years, the prospects for good skiing throughout the general area appear real good. Let's keep our fingers crossed, but perhaps, the cycle has changed, and we could be due for some of those winters with ample snow stretching from November to late May.

However, don't let the possibility of an early snow pack catch you unprepared. Normally, this is the time we can go about preparing for the forthcoming season more or less at our leisure.

Equipment should be checked, boots, skis, poles, pants, parkas, etc., and either replaced or put into a state of readiness. Check the shops for latest in ski fashions and equipment. Look the tire chains over and put a load of anti-freeze in the family hot rod and you're just about ready to go.

Just about ready for the slopes, except for one big item. How about yourself? What kind of condition are you in? Have you undertaken a program of calisthenics? If not, now is time to get started!

Actually, you can look upon a program of ski exercises and conditioning as good economics. Consider that the vast majority of us are in deplorable condition to undertake the rigors of the ski slope. Very few are in a position that they use their legs in their everyday routine except to walk to the car and back.

Now, as you well know, a weekend skiing, with accomodation, etc., is not entirely unexpensive. Therefore, it seems only slightly less than idiotic to take off for the mountains, when you are in condition to only participate on approximately 25 to 40 per cent basis.

The average person certainly can't undertake a rigorous training program such as the young competitive skier is committed to, but since his skiing demands aren't as extensive, it is possible to be adequately conditioned.

This can be accomplished with a program of exercises and ski conditioning calisthenics entered into at least a month before and continuing faithfully throughout the ski season. The key word here is consistency. Do them each and every day, and the results on the next down hill run you make will amaze you.

There are any number of exercises that are applicable. I would recommend about 25 deep knee bends, increasing to 50. One legged knee bends, increasing to about 15 to 20. Don't forget the push ups, as you do need over all body condition, do approximately 25. If you have weights available, do your knee bends with weights.

There are many other exercises of a specialized nature that can be obtained by checking any of the current issues of the ski magazines. In addition, don't be afraid to put your skis and boots on and get on the front lawn and kick turns, walking, etc. The neighbors, of course, will think you're a nut or something, but then they probably do already.

Go to it skier the time rapidly is becoming now. An early snow pack is all we need to go with the impetus carrying over from the Olympics, to make this the biggest season ever.

Acalanes Title Hopes Wrecked By Knight Upset

The Acalanes hopes for an undisputed first place in the final varsity football standings went out the window last Thursday when the Las Lomas Knights hit a season high by upsetting them, 14-6.

The loss threw the Dons into a tie with Piedmont, who wound up with a 45-32 win over the Alhambra Bulldogs.

AN ALERT Las Lomas defense and an Acalanes miscue set up the Knights' two touchdowns and it proved to be good enough as the Dons managed but a lone touchdown in the third quarter.

The clubs battled on even terms in the first quarter, with the Knights making the most of a pair of Don miscues in the fatal second quarter.

Andy McMeans, in to punt for the Dons from their own 34, bobbled a high pass from center and the fast-charging Knights recovered on the Dons' 12. Three plays put it on the four and half-back Jim Murphy drove over tackle to score. Quarterback Mike Breuleux split the uprigths to make it 7-0.

THE DONS took to the air after returning the kickoff to their own 25, only to have it backfire when quarterback Tom Strain's aerial went astray and halfback Harold Stephenson grabbed it off and sprinted 45 yards to make it 13-0 and Breuleux made it 14-0 as he made good on the placement kick.

The Dons, stung and hurt, came back to score in the quarter as halfback Chris Rinne went over from one yard out. Big play of the drive was a 21-yard pass-run from Strain to end John Clark.

The Dons outplayed the Knights in the second half, only to have a tough Lomas defense stiffen when the chips were down. Tightness of the Lomas defense was shown by the fact the Knights gave the Dons but 35 yards on the ground while getting 69 of their own.

The Acalanes eleven had 103 yards with 8 for 16 in passing to 5 yards for Lomas on a successful 2 for 5. In first downs it was Acalanes, 8-5.

Dam OKed for Toxic Problem on Sacramento

A permanent solution to a long-standing Sacramento River pollution problem (from Spring Creek near Redding) is expected in the near future, according to spokesmen for the State Department of Fish and Game.

The department revealed that the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation has been authorized funds to construct a debris and flood control dam on Spring Creek, a tributary of the Sacramento River.

THIS DAM will alleviate the pollution problem and enhance the salmon resource which has suffered in the past.

The department and bureau worked out an interim water release procedure two years ago which relieved considerably the pollution threat to salmon, but the dam will be both a more effective and permanent solution.

In addition to benefiting salmon by eliminating zinc and copper-laden water which has been flushed down the creek into the Sacramento River from abandoned mines each year, the dam will protect from flood damage a hydroelectric plant to be built near Spring Creek.

EACH YEAR as the winter rains caused Spring Creek to rise, untold numbers of adult salmon and fry were killed by the toxic water.

Estimated cost of the dam is $4,600,000. Bureau of Reclamation spokesmen say the contract will be let in July, 1961.

The dam will store the toxic water in order that it may be released at safe levels into the Sacramento River after the most critical salmon spawning periods.

Druids won three points in its match with Xavier's Shoe Shop to retain their hold on first place in the Hard Luck 750 Handicap league at Monument Bowl during a recent evening's play.

Wally Muzika of W. P. Fuller shot the night's high game, a 190, and Ray Swartsel of Hathcoat Drywall had the high series of the evening, a 504, with games of 159, 170 and 175.

Other recent results at Monument Bowl were as follows:

BLUE MONDAY 800 LEAGUE
Parker-Robb took three points from Alves Pools to retain their hold on first place. Sons of Norway took three points from Crenna Tires to move up to second place. Alves Pools are in third.

Lynn Urdahl of Parker-Robb shot the high game of the night, 233.

Chuck Herman of Parker-Robb shot the high series of the night, 577, with games of 213, 191 and 163.

MONUMENT KINKPINS LEAGUE

Yacht Club took three points from Butler-Conti to retain their hold on first place. Varsity Liquor retained their hold on second place by taking two points from

Wrestling Teams In Area Record Large Turnouts

The area's wrestling teams stepped up workout sessions this week as they got ready for the opening meets.

In the Foothill League, Miramonte swung into action last Monday, as did San Ramon, while Las Lomas opened practice November 1.

ACALANES called their opening workout last Wednesday.

Miramonte, loaded with a host of veterans, had better than 60 candidates on hand and were favorites to knock the Acalanes Dons off the throne.

The Dons were expecting about 50 candidates, but were heavy hit by graduation and have lots of gaps to fill.

San Ramon also had around 60 out, with more than 20 holdovers from last year's squad. Las Lomas had 40 answer the call and a good number of veterans.

PLEASANT HILL, competing in the Contra Costa Division League, were champs last year and wound up with the North Coast crown.

They have a number of top lettermen back and are heavy favorites to repeat as league champions.

Coach George Galli has a sign-up of better than 90 and expects to pick up a good batch of newcomers.

Viking Harriers Win 3-Way Meet

The Diablo Valley College cross-country team defeated San Jose City College and Vallejo Junior College in a three-way meet recently. The meet was held on the DVC campus.

The Vikings had a total of 28 points to 33 for San Jose and 61 for Vallejo, low score winning.

Roger Dietsch of DVC copied individual honors by taking first place with a time of 17:25. Mike Brodie of DVC was right behind him, taking second in the time of 17:32.

Mike McClendon of San Jose took third place while Larry Pavilonis of DVC copied fourth. Dan O'Brien and Ted Bradshaw rounded out the Viking scoring by taking ninth and twelfth places respectively.

MONUMENT JUNIOR MAJOR

Village Liquor took all four points from T&D Cement to retain their hold on first place. Tri-City Amusement took all four points from Greyhound to retain their hold on second place. C&K Refrigeration are in third place.

Rudy Engel of Diablo Fence Co. shot both the high game and high series of the night with games of 203, 184 and 231 for a 618 series.

MONUMENT CLASSIC LEAGUE

Monument Bowl took all four points from Lawrence Chrysler-Plymouth to retain their hold on first place. Shop for Bowlers are in second place after their opponents Mario's Shell Service took three points. Mario's Shell Service are in third place.

Emery Horsfall of Walnut Creek Electric shot both the high game and high series of the night with games of 193, 199 and 255 for a 647.

Miramonte Stands Chance For Foothill Loop Title

The 1960-61 basketball season is well under way as far as practice sessions go with all football games past and the grid candidates for basketball reporting early this week.

In the Contra Costa Division, as in the Foothill League, the hardwood courts are the scene of busy action as coaches put their charges through practice drills to screen and develop the team for the openers which are not far off.

Coach Art Poulin at Pleasant Hill has a good crew on hand, but like all others, is working hard to find replacements for those veteran seniors lost via graduation.

OVER ACALANES way, the Dons have a new head coach in Bart Burnett, who moved up from the Bee post when Dan Glines moved to San Jose College. Burt has a squad of 27 on hand, with lettermen Chris Rinne, Dave Stegman, Stew Fox, Larry Logan, Glen Abernathy, Doug Treter and Tom Strain reporting daily.

Up from last year's junior varsity are Brian Allen, Bill Hays, while a trio of newcomers are John Clark, Marty Sivesend and John Morrison.

Bee graduates find Dave Bierk, John Jones, Walt Cardinet, Mike Fullerton and Tim Albert making a strong bid for varsity status.

HAROLD OLSON, new Bee coach, has a squad of 22 on hand and, like the varsity, is working hard to get his charges ready for their opener November 29 at Vallejo.

Acalanes won the varsity basketball title and wound up second in the Tournament of Champions last year.

Graduation losses and a new coach with a new system of play remove the Dons from the rank of top pennant contenders.

Community Service Is Big Part of Girl Scout Contribution to Society

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of articles on the Girl Scout program in the central county area. The articles have been written by Mrs. William J. Marshall, public relations chairman of the Diablo Valley area Girl Scout Council, to promote better understanding of the program.)

Pigtail to ponytail—from 7 to 17, combine a sunny smile, busy hands, sturdy feet, a willing heart and what do you get? A Girl Scout, of course!

You're only young once and those years can be the happiest or the hardest years of your life. For Girl Scouts, they are years filled with rich rewarding experience. They serve their community today and prepare to serve it tomorrow. Wherever you look you will find the "girls in green" performing useful tasks and acquiring new skills.

Girl Scout Seniors work as aides in hospitals, libraries, museums and nursery schools; assist with therapy for the handicapped and clerical duties for volunteer agencies such as the Girl Scout office, United Crusade and Volunteer Bureau.

DURING THE past years many Intermediate and Senior Scouts have assisted the area women's clubs, garden groups and beautification societies with the planting of public thoroughfares. Many times this is a popular service that many groups are willing to perform, however, Girl Scouts have also assisted in the more unpopular tasks of maintenance such as watering and weeding.

Cakes and cookies are baked around the holiday season which Juvenile Hall can store in the freezer to be brought out for birthdays and other special occasions; boxes are decorated for the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center speech clinic; Christmas trees and table decorations are prepared for the Children's Hospital exhibition. Brownie Scouts make Christmas stars for our annual sewing star Christmas tree which decorates the Girl Scout office from December 9. Stars are later sent by the office to the American Friends Service Committee for distribution overseas. This year intermediate troops are asked to assist the same organization by making Christmas cards.

Innumerable projects have been undertaken by our troops and "thank-yous" have been received from Alaska to Korea, some of which will be displayed in February which is International Month for Girl Scouts.

BUSY WORK? Of course! But our future mothers and career girls will find a challenge in meeting responsibilities to their community and country. Outstanding leadership is vital for their many and varied programs and to meet the challenge and promise of our changing world. By exploring the world outside—its beauty and resources—Girl Scouts discover the world within—the joys of self-expression and the ability to be self-reliant.

In anticipation of the 50th anniversary of Girl Scouting, Jackson and Perkins, the famous rose growers, have developed a golden rose—known as the Girl Scout Rose. Thus, we will join the ranks of such luminaries as Mamie Eisenhower, Queen Elizabeth, Konrad Adenauer and Kate Smith in having one of the world's most beloved flowers named for us.

The Girl Scout Rose was introduced to the American public and to the Girl Scouts particularly, at the National Girl Scout Convention which will be held at St. Louis, Missouri, this week, when the first bouquet of Girl Scout Roses were presented to our president, Mrs. Charles U. Culmer—the podium of Keil Auditorium was decorated with the roses.

The city of St. Louis will receive a gift of rose bushes to start a Golden Blossom Girl Scout Garden at the City Hall Plaza. This will be but the beginning—Girl Scouts in our community and throughout the country will be able to order this golden rose for planting time—with a promise of bloom for 1961.

GIRL SCOUT leaders are now giving this information to their troops and establishing the number of rose bushes to be ordered for planting, individually—or by troops for community planting. Troop funds are somewhat limited so Girl Scouts are asked garden clubs and beautification societies to help them buy the rose bushes, and they will follow through with the planting and maintenance in public thoroughfares. Rose fanciers and consultants will be available for horticultural guidance to insure the best possible blooms for our anniversary year.

Each new project undertaken by our Scouts entails the learning of a new skill or interest and in carrying out these duties Scouts receive training and discover new fields of activity which may well determine their choice of a career.

Girl Scout programs are rich in suggestions and talented individuals always seem ready and willing to assist with knowledge and counseling, either with individual troops or programming through the council.

To all of you in our community who assist as leaders or assistants, directors, consultants and program advisors, our Girl Scouts say they will "Honor the Past—Serve the Future"—this promise is their tribute to your leadership.

Dramateurs Open Tonight In 'Look Homeward, Angel'

The Dramateurs' latest production, "Look Homeward, Angel," by Ketti Frings, based on the autobiographical novel by Thomas Wolfe, opens tonight at the Lafayette Town Hall.

The play won both the Pulitzer Prize and the New York Critics' Award and will be presented on the same stage on four weekends through December 10.

CURTAIN time is 8:30 p.m. each Friday and Saturday, and reservations may be made in Berkeley at Hinks book department, TH 5-1100, in Orinda at CL 4-4141 or CL 4-2460 or at the Town Hall, AT 4-9965, on performance nights.

The director, Carl Rasmussen, has chosen the cast of 19 actors from veterans such as Jim Harris, last seen as the father in the "Rainmaker;" Gary Lawrence, well remembered from "The Rivals;" Gene Ledbetter, who appeared as Robert Browning in the "Barretts of Wimpole Street;"

Diane Davis; Ray Howard; Jean Maisel and Jewel Scheline.

Others, making their debut, are Thais Ackerman, Gary Elder, Betty Gordon, Marilyn Hansen, John Phillips, Frank Pratt, Bill Pritchard, Barbara Schultz, Jim Shanks, Rowland Slep and Adrienne Sowers.

ASSISTANT directors are Beth Culp, Gary Lawrence, Vicki West and Audrey Elder.

George Meyer is technical director and Phil Jelley will assume the duties of stage manager. Tish Winkworth is heading set design and Bruce Winkworth is responsible for set constructions.

The Dramateurs have asked their friends and patrons to make reservations early, since the new production has already been booked for sponsorship by a number of local civic groups, thus limiting the number of tickets available for each evening.

EBMUD's Tunnel Work Hits 40% Completion

The job of boring a three-mile-long East Bay Municipal Utility District water tunnel between Lafayette and Orinda is 40 per cent complete.

E. L. Macdonald, head of EBMUD's Special Projects Construction Division, said tunnel crews, working in three shifts, passed the 7000-foot mark on November 1. The tunnel heading is just west of Las Cascades in Orinda, 230 feet below ground surface. Current progress is at a rate of better than 40 feet per day.

No major problems have been encountered to date, Macdonald said. At present, crews are tunneling through sandstone containing occasional mud seams. A few stretches of unstable earth, necessitating additional supports, have put the project just slightly behind schedule, he added.

Lafayette Tunnel No. 2 is 9½-feet in diameter. It is the final link in the 88-mile Third Mokelumne Aqueduct system which, upon completion in 1962, will deliver an additional 181 million gallons of Mokelumne River water daily to the East Bay.

Boring is being done from the west end of the tunnel off Manzanita Road in Orinda. The east portal will be located 300 feet west of Sunnybrook Road, Lafayette.

The tunnel is expected to be completed by late summer 1961 but the entire $5-million project will not be finished until November, 1962. The total project, which includes lining the tunnel and construction of a Briones pumping plant, an outlet control works at the west portal and an aqueduct link to the Orinda Filter Plant, is about 25 per cent complete.

Contractors for the job are Stolte, Inc. and Fred J. Early Jr. Company, Inc.

Woodward Will Spark Public Speak Contest

The Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West has appointed Burke Woodward, past president of Parlor 315, Walnut Creek, as chairman of the Contra Costa High School public speaking contest.

Frank Christy of Sunset Parlor 26 of Sacramento was named state chairman.

This will be the twenty-fourth annual public speaking contest, a project of the Native Sons of the Golden West. There are four districts — Southern California number one and two, interior valley number three and coast counties four.

One student speaker from each high school, or grades nine to 12, inclusive, who has not attained age 20 may participate in a county-wide or regional elimination contest to be held in March and April.

The winners of these district contests will compete in the finals at the Grand Parlor Session to be held in May at Hobergs in Lake County.

First place winner in the finals at Hobergs will receive a $1000 U.S. Savings Bond; second place $500, third place $250, fourth place $100.

There also will be certificates and plaques for school and district winners.

Last year's winner at Bakersfield was Miss Joan Moran of Marin Catholic High School, San Rafael.

Woodward will visit all high schools in the county. Persons desiring information may contact him.

Directory Is Corrected

The Directory of Agencies in the specialized fields of health, welfare, education and recreation serving Contra Costa residents has just been corrected and added to by the Community Welfare Council, a Crusade supported agency.

The correction list will update the Directory published in 1959. The Directory was originally correlated by the Community Welfare Council and financially supported by the Oakland Junior League.

The Directory is used mostly by the clergy, businessmen, service groups, medical professionals and other groups assisting citizens with pertinent information regarding the various services available in the community.

The correction list and the Directory of Agencies is now available at the Central Community Welfare Council offices at 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek.

The Last Contest Ever For People Who Never Enter Contests!

and the only contest that offers you a choice of entry blanks!

JUST THINK OF A LAST LINE TO COMPLETE THIS VERSE:

*Sweet suburbia,
Blooming from California to Maine
Mortgaged to the whole of its terrain
Where one seldom relaxes
Because of high taxes*

(And your line would go here)

The last word of your entry line should rhyme with "Maïne" and "terrain." For example a last line might be—"And station wagons speeding to the train." Among other rhyming words that might be used: complain, gain, lane, pain, plain, rain, refrain, strain, etc., etc., etc.

BEFORE YOU START... READ THESE RULES!

- (1) Take a warm bath, relax, hum your favorite song softly. (This rule may not help you dream up a winning entry—but it will make you feel good.)
- (2) You may enter as many last lines as desired as long as the total number does not exceed three. Your brainstorms may be submitted on the entry forms on the opposite page. (If desired, you may select the coupon form that best suits your personality.) Entries may also be submitted on facsimiles, post cards, greeting cards, or playing cards.
- (3) Mail your entries to: SUBURBIA TODAY BOX 7525, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS

(4) All entries must be received by 3:47 a.m., December 5, 1960. For those who do not hear from us within a few weeks after that date—best wishes for a happy holiday season.

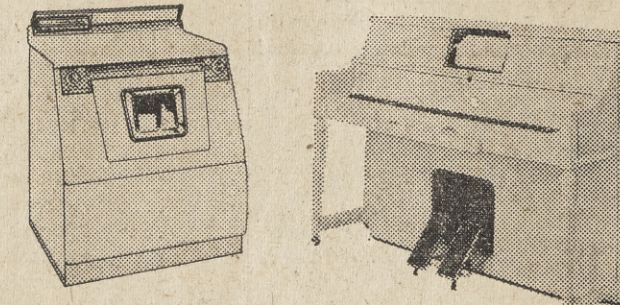

(5) Entries will be judged on the basis of originality and aptness of thought. Judges' decision is final. In case of ties, the tied contestants will be required to complete in 25 words or less the statement, "I never enter contests because..." All entries become the property of Suburbia Today.

(6) Entries must be the original work of contestants and must be submitted in their own names. However, if your name is John Phyrkottosoonier, we'll understand if your entry is signed Tom Phyrkottosoonier.

(7) Three hundred prizes are being awarded in the three contests that have appeared in the September, October and November issues of Suburbia Today. One hundred prizes will be awarded in each contest. Three hundred fortune cookies—each containing a message listing a prize—will be selected at random for mailing to the 300 individual prize winners.

(8) The contest is open to everyone except recipients of a Pulitzer Prize or an Academy Award.

(9) The contest is subject to all Federal, State and local regulations.

ARNOLD MICHAELS, president of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, and the head of Grodins, recently had the pleasure of presenting this plaque to Honolulu's leading member of the men's clothing industry. The plaque and a $500 check to the Navy Fund for the Arizona Memorial, in Mr. Riley's name, were presented by Michaels in appreciation for the hospitality shown the association at a recent convention in the Islands. Michaels, on the left, was also congratulated on his return by George Webster, local manager of Grodins.

New Rapid Transit Cars Ordered by Philadelphia

Rapid transit, which has been a major subject of interest in the Bay Area and Contra Costa County for years, is an up-to-date reality in Philadelphia, Penn.

The purchase by the City of Philadelphia of 270 new stainless steel cars, each 55 feet long, from the Budd Company has been announced.

The $25 million order will replace the present equipment of Philadelphia's Market-Frankford subway, which is more than 50 years old.

A REPORT entitled "Modern Passenger Transportation" indicates that this is the first time stainless steel has been specified for a fleet of rapid transit cars.

It said, "The new cars have a long list of passenger appealing features designed to win new riders to mass transportation and at the same time, are lighter in weight, less costly to operate and more economical to maintain than any ever built."

"The value of these savings is estimated at about $6,500,000 during the 35-year depreciation life-span of the fleet of new cars."

The report explains that the reduced weight of each car will result in a reduced consumption

12 per cent, which is a $2,430,000 of electric power, perhaps about saving over the 35 years.

STAINLESS steel makes painting and corrosion repairs unnecessary, and there may be a $4 million saving there over the years.

Although this is the first stainless-steel fleet ordered, the Budd Company has supplied 15 prototype cars to the New York Transit Authority, the report said.

There will be 54 seats in each single unit and 56 seats in each unit of permanently coupled pairs.

The report adds that the features and performance economies . . . represent what many engineers feel is the most significant advance in rapid transit car design since the first all steel cars were introduced shortly after the turn of the century."

Nanki-Poo Will Live Again with Diablo Light Opera

THESE THREE Little Maids, among others, will be joining in a production of The Mikado, in which all turns out fine in the end for Nanki-Poo, surrounded here by a bevy of beauties. Left to right are Arlou Munro, Virginia Poulton, Donald Poulton and Jan Schill. The production will be presented by The Diablo Light Opera Company next Friday, November 26 and December 2 and 3 at the Mt. Diablo High School auditorium.

Still Time To Enter Center Seal Contest!

There is still time to enter the contest for an official seal for the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center. Deadline for entries is Nov. 28.

The entries will be displayed at the Coordinating Council's Annual Christmas Fair to be held at the Walnut Bowl in Walnut Creek, Dec. 1 through 4.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the Center, 100 Golf Links Road, Pleasant Hill, or Pillsbury's Stationery in Walnut Creek.

Mrs. W. H. Billings, chairman of the contest, has announced the following members of the jury to select the winning seal:

Miss Betty Caldecott, occupational therapist; Mrs. M. G. Kennedy, chairman of the Coordinating Council; and Mrs. Betty Pleshe, well-known area artist and teacher.

Other members of the contest committee are Mrs. Ted Lake of Alamo and Mrs. Robert Love of Lafayette.

Curtain Will Rise on Light Opera 'Mikado'

Rehearsals for the "Mikado," Diablo Light Opera Company's new production, are being held three times a week at Las Lomas High School. Set Director John Wilson and his committee have almost completed the scenery which, in keeping with the opera, is oriental in design. The cast and chorus will be costumed in typical Japanese fashion.

The cast of 40 will be accompanied by a 25 piece orchestra made up of local musicians.

The Gilbert and Sullivan opera will be presented the week-ends of November 25 and 26 and December 2 to 3 at the Diablo High School Auditorium in Concord.

Tickets are $1 and may be obtained by writing to P.O. Box 214 in Danville, or calling MU 5-5503 in Concord.

Members of the cast include Jane Alexakos, Grif Duncan, Dick and Lynn Henderson, Marie

Michael, Arlou Munro and Jeanette Sahlin of Walnut Creek; Fred and Helen DeLude, Ardene Grandquist, Walt and Jan Schill, Pat Wilson, Gay Turner, and Vince Wood of Concord; Bill and Kitty Brown of Livermore; Elly Matthews, Norm Sowards and Harold and Hene Zuckerman of Danville; Herb Brown of San Pablo; John Wilson of San Leandro; Clifford and Grete Egan, and Donald Moss of Martinez; Ford and Kathryn King, Don and Virginia Poulton of Oakland; and Georgia Rousseau of Pleasant Hill.

SAN CARLOS

The area which is now the city of San Carlos was given in grant by King Carlos III of Spain to Don Jose Dario Arguello, whose son later became the first governor of California after Mexico seceded from Spain, reports the California State Automobile Association.

A HIGHLIGHT of last week's grand opening of the Simon's Hardware store in Walnut Creek was the sealing of a time capsule with mementos of the present in it. Packing the time capsule, from left to right, are Harley King, president of the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce; Perry T. Hammett, treasurer of Simon's; Frank Marshall, mayor of Walnut Creek; Bertram E. Simon, president of the company; Aaron Simon, vice president; Mrs. Jacob Simon, mother of Aaron and Stanley Simon; Tom Merry, store manager; and Stanley Simon, chairman of the board of Simon's.

The wonderful world of the future was the theme of pre-opening dedication ceremonies Wednesday at Simon Hardware Company's big, new Walnut Creek store.

Faith in the years ahead and an emphasis on the human values inherent in America's profusion of "things" were emphasized during the ceremony which took place beside a time capsule to be opened in the year 2000.

On the time capsule are the words, "Sealed Here in Are Dreams of Wondrous Things Yet to Come." It will contain predictions of products not yet invented which Simon's will be selling in the year 2000.

IN HIS welcoming address, Walnut Creek Mayor Frank A. Marshall observed, "As I walk down the aisles at Simon's and see the overwhelming variety of goods and startling selection, I am impressed by what all those products mean in terms of beneficial services to people.

"Stores such as these are treasure houses which are a measure of America's capacity to free people of drudgery in order to enjoy leisure."

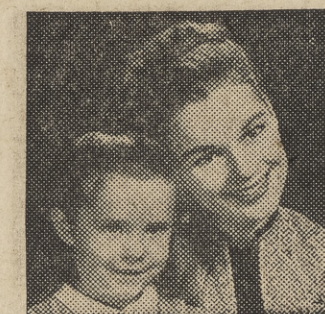

For the time capsule he predicted many more things for the benefit of mankind would be developed during the next 40 years.

Harley W. J. King, president of the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce, also struck a highly optimistic note for the future. America, he said, will face successfully the grave problems which face us today. The pessimists who anticipate disaster, he added, neglect to recognize the intelligence and tenacity of men and the inherent strength of this nation.

"THE VITALITY of the United States," he stated, lies in the many energetic and enterprising individuals throughout our land. Each well run business, each efficient individual, each of us in our own way contribute the fibres which together make up the powerful sinews of a great nation.

King, therefore, concluded that Simon's in the year 2000 would not be selling "refugee kits, family-model radiation counters, or decontamination supplies."

Christmas Seals In Mails; Adults, Youth Groups Aid

"Protect the Family Circle" is the aim of the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association, which is planning the 1960 Christmas Seal campaign.

The traditional annual fundraising campaign opened Monday with the mailing of over 31,000,000 Christmas Seals to Contra Costa County residents.

Many thousands of lives have been saved since the first Christmas Seal was sold, but the saving of lives is not enough, declared Harold Weatherbe, Christmas Seal chairman.

"We must see to it that every family is spared the suffering and tragedy of this long-term, chronic illness."

Helping with preparation of mailing of the more than 100,000 letters were several youth and adult clubs and organizations. Assisting were the Ksh-lala-odako group of Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scout troops No. 204, 381, 251, 292, and Orinda troop under the direction of Mrs. Lilian Newman and Mrs. A. M. Pilgrim; also Cub Pack 43, Den 3, under the direction of Mrs. Wilma Weidoff.

A three day "stuffing party" was carried on at the Richmond City Hall, November 3, 4 and 7 under the direction of Mrs. Theresa Ratto. Assisting were Mesdames Ava Morrow, Blanche McKenzie, Minnie Janz, Margaret Batta, Mary Demaretti, Mary Cisi, Mary Beasley, Janet Bostock, Marjorie Ohlheimer, Catherine Ryan, Amelia Durkin.

Rose Herrmann, Mary Aguiar, Annie Regellow, Virginia Stanford, Charlotte McCombe, Florinda Fara, Marian Malone, Matilda Quinlan, Leona Peralta, Mrs. Kenneth Hetzel, Joanne Malone, E. Janze.

Assisting in the Pleasant Hill office were Mesdames Ruth Rodgers, Glenna Herod, Charles Becker, Maurice Huget, M. L. Fernandez, Mary Costa, Helen Lewis, Ellen Lucid and Anna M. Bergh.

Film Revives Memories for Actor-Teacher

The showing of the film "The Hound That Thought He Was A Raccoon" at the Orinda Theater this week has revived memories of the summer of 1959 for Oscar Busch, math teacher at Acalanes High School.

It was that summer Busch spent at Felton, in Santa Cruz County, playing the role of Jeff Emery, hunter, fisherman, and dog raiser in the Walt Disney production.

Suggested for the part by Sam Taylor, writer and his brother-in-law, Busch left for location the last day of school, returning the first day of the fall term.

The story of the play is a simple one. Nubbin, the hound, is to be drowned as the runt of the litter, but escapes to be adopted by a mother raccoon who has lost one of her offspring.

Growing up with her foster brothers and sisters, the hound learns to live like a raccoon until she is found and brought home by the hunter. In her new home she continues to act as a raccoon until increasing age causes her and her adopted brother to become natural and mortal enemies.

Nubbin, the hero of the film, is now owned by Busch and gave birth to a litter of 11 puppies this past weekend.

Busch's daughter, Elizabeth, also worked in the film as a script girl and is presently a sophomore at Acalanes High School.

Busch refused an offer to become a professional actor saying he had devoted 30 years of his life to teaching and did not care to learn a new occupation.

As a youth, Busch spent several years as a professional trapper in the Southwest.

behind us," Mrs. Edythe Tucker, executive director, said, "Volunteers are still needed to help count money and process the mail when it is received at the office."

"We will be most grateful for any assistance anyone can give us," Mrs. Tucker said. The office is located at 105 Astrid Drive, Pleasant Hill.
